Logan Elm Does It Again

Miss Debbie Ankrom Named Festivals Queen of Queens

By RICHARD DAVIS

It has been confirmed. Logan Elm has a monopoly on producing beauty queens!

Debbie Ankrom, a senior at Logan Elm High School, was crowned Queen of Queens Saturday night at the Sugar-creek Swiss Festival in Tuscarawas County. Relinquishing her crown to the new beauty queen was Shauna Humphrey, 1964 Miss Pumpkin Show and last year's Queen of Queens . . . and a graduate of Logan Elm High School.

Miss Ankrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ankrom, Route 4, also holds the crown of Miss Pumpkin Show of 1965. The local achievement was her eligibility slip for the state contest conducted by the Ohio Festivals and Events Assn.

Debbie was crowned Saturday before an estimated crowd of 75,000 to 80,000 in the northern Tuscarawas County village. The contest has been held for the past two years on the Saturday night of Pumpkin Show.

MEANWHILE, back at Logan Elm High School. There are two other reigning Buckeye beauties from the area school. Rebecca Alkire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Alkire, won the national title of Miss American Teen-Ager last month. Linda Trimmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Trimmer, Route 4, copped the title of Miss Southwestern Ohio and competed in the Miss Ohio finals. Both contests for Miss Trimmer were preliminaries of the Miss America Pageant.

Other Logan Elm graduates to become beauty queens include Page Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, Route 1, Carol Torchick, now Mrs. Ralph England. They are former Miss Pumpkin Show title holders. Brenda List, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther List, Route 1, was Pickaway County (Continued on Page 14)

Crash Claims 18 Travelers

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Dozens of investigators hunted for clues today in the mountain ravine in which an airliner crashed, killing all 18 persons aboard.

The Wes Coast Airlines DC9 went down Saturday night in the rugged terrain about 30 miles southeast of Portland. It took 17 hours to find the wreckage and another three hours to find a way to it. The only way turned out to be by air. The forest was like a jungle. There were no trails. Only a helicopter could get in, landing in a mountain meadow a quarter-mile from the crash.

The impact came as the jet descended the western slope of the Cascade range. The plane almost made it. It was down to the 4,000-foot level and if it had not been for a 4-200-foot ridge, the plane could have glided into Portland Airport on a flight from Eugene, Ore., 100 miles to the south.

The first question for crash investigators is why the pilot, who was flying on instruments, apparently thought he was higher than 4,200 feet.

Officials said he reported he was 10 minutes out of Portland. Ground control gave him permission to drop from 14,000 feet. He was asked to report when he got to 12,000 feet, and in no case to go below 9,000 feet without reporting.

At that point the radar controller said the plane disappeared from the radar scope. That meant it crashed, but at the 4,000-foot level instead of the 12,000 or 9,000.

Edward S. Slaery Jr., Washington, D.C., spokesman for the Civil Aeronautics Board, said it might be days, perhaps weeks, before answers would be found.

Rhodes Gets Re-Election Endorsements

Reams Disputes Administration's School Policy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. James A. Rhodes, quickly up out of a sick bed, expected to resume his re-election campaign trail today probably feeling all the better for a fresh spate of endorsements.

His Democratic opponent, State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., meanwhile continued branding as "fraudulent" Rhodes claims relative to accomplishments lauded by those endorsing the Republican governor.

Rhodes was ordered to bed by his doctor Saturday with a mild case of flu.

It figured that the governor would rest through the weekend, but came Mansfield's dedication Sunday of the new Ohio State University branch campus and there was Rhodes on hand as scheduled. He had canceled a Saturday night appearance in Lima.

Rhodes, who recently saw the Ohio AFL-CIO endorse Reams in the Nov. 8 election, himself got organized labor support Sunday.

The Co-Operative Legislative Committee for Ohio of all six railroad unions with Buckeye membership came out with an endorsement of which "the memberships . . . will be advised . . . so that they along with their relatives, friends, and neighbors, can actively support you (Rhodes) for re-election"

The Brotherhoods of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Locomotive Engineers, Maintenance Way Employees, Railroad Trainmen, and Railway and Steamship Clerks, and the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen are represented on the committee.

FBI Arrests Two Ohioans

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—George T. Robinson, 31, went to Miami Airport Sunday to meet Mrs. Jacqueline Kay Daugherty, 19, and after her plane landed the FBI arrested the pair in connection with an Ohio bank robbery.

Robinson, a native of Wayne County, Ohio, and Mrs. Daugherty of Rittman in Wayne County were linked by the FBI with the Sept. 27 robbery of the Apple Creek Banking Co. in their home territory. Most of the $5,000 loot was recovered.

Robinson is charged with armed robbery, the woman with being an accessory after the fact.

Unloaded Ships Clog Viet Port

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A shipping backlog, cut to near zero only a few months ago, has again become so serious that more than 60 freighters are waiting to be unloaded at this key port, U.S. officials and shipping sources said today.

These experts blamed the situation largely on feuding between the Army, the Agency for International Development had mismanagement. The situation can be cured only by firm action at a high level in Washington to make the Army and AID work together, said the sources, who asked to remain anonymous.

The shipping experts urged, among other things, that U.S. contractors with proven performance in the field be given the job of supervising the unloading of vessels bearing war goods and aid material.

Inez Lashes Sea Alley Between Miami, Nassau

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Inez, still a killer after nine wild days over tropical seas, roared today up an Atlantic Ocean alley between the famed resort cities of Miami and Nassau.

Dead ahead of the storm lay

Great Abaco Island, "the land that time forgot," and other Bahamian isles which often have heard the howl of the hurricane.

Inez had slowed to a crawl, a development that often portends a change in direction. But forecasters predicted she would continue on to north-northeast toward islands in which many graveyards hold victims of other tropical storms.

Lashing out to east and west, Inez japped at the south Florida "Gold Coast" with gusty winds and squalls and sent a tornado spiraling into Nassau that killed a 16-months - old native child.

Great Abaco, second largest of the Bahama Islands and the home of 6,500 persons, was scheduled for a direct hit.

Although Great Abaco is largely populated by natives of African descent, it contains several white communities—settled by loyalist refugees of the American Revolutionary War—where customs have changed little since 1776.

Gale warnings came down along the southeast Florida coast, home of 2.5 million people, after an uneasy Sunday during which Inez hurled squalls into the area, whipping the palm fronds.

In Nassau, capital of the Bahamas, flood waters ran two feet deep down some streets in the city of 50,000. The twister lashed a group of shacks occupied by field hands. Three persons are missing.

Weakened and knocked out of shape by her collision with the Sierra mountains of Cuba, Inez wound up tightly again over the Atlantic.

Her top winds were raging at 80 miles an hour around the eye

Local Issues Idle Plants In 3 Cities

Majority Agrees To Delay Strike For Two Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP)—At least 14,800 union employees of the General Electric Corp. walked off their jobs at three plants today. But a nationwide strike against the huge defense supplier appeared to have been averted by a presidential plea.

President Johnson asked the company and unions to maintain plant operations while negotiations continued, contending a strike would damage the Viet Nam war effort.

About 13,300 workers walked off their jobs at GE's Schenectady, N. Y., plant, some 1,100 employees struck the firm's Carboloy Products Division at Warren, Mich., and 400 union draftsmen struck the GE plant at Pittsfield, Mass. Union spokesmen said these walkouts involved local issues.

The remaining 105,200 union employees apparently were honoring the President's plea for a two-week postponement in a nationwide walkout which had been scheduled for 12:01 a.m. today, when their contracts expired.

Three Cabinet members, including Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, are joining negotiations that shift today to Washington after stalemated Sunday in New York.

Talks are to begin at 2 p.m. EDT.

A nationwide strike had appeared imminent when the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers rejected the key defense supplier's latest offer Sunday. Ten other unions representing 40,000 GE employees had been expected to follow the lead of the 80,000 IUE workers.

But Johnson asked the company and unions to continue plant operations, saying "our men in Viet Nam need these planes, these helicopters, these weapons."

The local General Electric lamp facility has not been affected by the electrical workers' walkout. The Circleville plant is non-union.

"The presidential request has nothing to do with us," said Richard Bradley, business agent of Local 128 of the Plumbers and Steamfitters Union. Members of his union were among 1,300 non-IUE union workers who joined the 12,000 IUE members in the walkout at the Schenectady plant. Bradley and an IUE spokesman said the walkout was over local issues and not those involved in national negotiations.

The strike idled about 23,000 workers at the Schenectady plant, producer of large steam turbines.

The Carboloy plant, sole producer of man-made diamonds in the United States and a maker of tungsten carbide cutting tools, was struck by members of the United Auto Workers Local (Continued on Page 2)

EDITOR'S NOTE — More than two weeks have passed since Valerie Percy, honey-blond daughter of Republican leader Charles H. Percy, was murdered in a crime that shocked the nation. Here is a report on the massive investigation to track down her killer.

KENILWORTH, Ill. (AP) — On the chilly morning of Sept. 18, the stillness that surrounded the mansion where Valerie Percy, 21, lay murdered was disturbed by the movements of four men.

Ohio Survey Shows High Employment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Another unemployment survey, this time in 22 selected counties, showed unemployment in those areas declined 1.3 per cent from August 1964 through Aug. 1966, Gov. James A. Rhodes was advised.

Willard P. Dudley, administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, told the governor the counties surveyed increased their labor force by 18,100 during the period, from 381,200 in 1964 to 399,300 in 1966 of which 364,500 (August 1964) and 386,900 (August 1966) were employed, respectively.

Comparing the same period, the unemployment rate dropped from 4.4 per cent to 3.1 per cent, or from 16,700 to 12,400. The unemployment and unemployment rate of the counties surveyed were:

Allen 1,800-3.7; Ashtabula 110-2.2; Carroll 450-3.0; Champaign 250-2.6; Clark 1,300-2.5; Clinton 25-2.2; Columbiana 1,100-3.3; Coshocton 400-3.0; Darke 400-2.6; Erie 900-2.8; Fayette 400-4.2; Gallia 325-4.4; Guernsey 500-3.7; Highland 250-2.3; Huron 125-3.9; Ottawa 350-2.7; Seneca 25-2.7; Van Wert 257-2.7.

Ohioan Rescued From 2 Mishaps

CLEVELAND (AP) — For the second time in two weeks James Flannery has been pulled out of trouble.

Rep. Weltner Drops Race For House

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., said today he is withdrawing as the Democratic nominee to succeed himself because he cannot support Lester G. Maddox, the Democratic nominee for governor.

"I cannot compromise with hate," Weltner said at a news conference. "I cannot vote for Lester Maddox."

Weltner, the Atlanta congressman who had won renomination for a third term, said he was bound by his qualifying pledge to support party nominees in the general election. He said he could not violate his party oath of loyalty.

Maddox, an arch segregationist and fierce critic of the national Democratic leadership, won nomination last Wednesday in a primary runoff with moderate Ellis G. Arnall. Weltner said Maddox was "the very symbol of violence and oppression."

"His entire public career is directly contrary to my deepest convictions and beliefs," said Weltner, who voted for the 1965 Voting Rights Act, "and while I cannot violate my oath, neither can I violate my principles."

"I will give up my office before I give up my principles," Weltner was a leader in the congressional investigation of the Ku Klux Klan during the last session. His Atlanta constituency includes a large number of Negroes.

A petition opposing a location for an airport was presented today to the Pickaway County Commissioners.

The petition represents 162 persons from various parts of the county. The document's primary contention is that an airport site should not be in a section undergoing growth as a residential section.

Presenting the list of signatures was Mrs. G. A. Wyllie, Route 4. The commissioners accepted the petition and moved to place it on file.

Although the petition recognized an airport as a symbol of progress, it noted that such a facility should not be in conflict with residential growth.

IN DENOTING reasons for he opposing action, the petition read:

1. Activities normally associated with an airport are clearly inconsistent with characteristics of a residential area;

2. Any adverse effect on property values would impose unwarranted hardship on present property owners and would inhibit future growth as a residential area.

The proposed site is about four miles east of Circleville and due south of Route 22. The commission already has taken an option on 14 acres of land owned by the Croman family.

The privately owned property would be combined with about 30 acres owned by the county to form the proposed site. The location has received preliminary state approval, making the project eligible for state financial assistance.

Special Crime Hearings Slated in Jittery City

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Greenway Avenue residents bolt doors now. A hardware store sells out of chain locks. A City Council votes $20,000 to investigate crime.

A metropolitan already jittery from a series of savage murders was jolted again last week by the slaughter of a chemical engineer, his pretty wife and their 4-year-old daughter in their suburban home.

That vicious crime "points up the need to do something as rapidly as possible," said Cincinnati Councilman John E. Held, who already had spearheaded a special inquiry into rising violence.

Cincinnati's City Council authorized a committee headed by Held to spend up to $20,000 investigating ways to stem crime and violence. Public hearings start Friday.

"This is the third time we've been out of chain door locks in two days," said Walter Hilmer, a hardware store manager. "We are selling a lot of door peepholes, too."

Gun sales have boomed since the killings began last December. Sales spurt anew after each incident.

Ford Reports New Battery Breakthrough

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. reported today it has achieved a major breakthrough by developing a new type battery which could pave the way for return of the electric-powered auto to U.S. highways.

Michael Ference Jr., Ford vice president for scientific research, said the new battery could store up to 15 times as much energy as present lead-acid storage batteries.

The firm disclosed Sept. 15 that it was working on the electric car project.

Ference said in a prepared statement that Ford Motor Co. and Ford of England have joined forces to build two prototype models of the proposed electric car.

The two companies described the new product, the first experimental model of which is being built in England now, as "a low-cost, subcompact limited performance 'city car' to carry two adults and two children."

The first two cars, one designed for testing in England and the other in metropolitan suburban areas of the United States, will be powered initially by lead-acid batteries, such as those now used in cars.

Ference said Ford has developed a new type sodium-sulfur battery, which is still in its early stages.

He added, "It promises to meet the over-all needs of an efficient, low-cost, compact, urban-suburban electric vehicle requiring only overnight recharging."

Ference estimated that the electric car, powered by the new battery, would have a range of 150 miles a 40-miles-an-hour speed.

An artist's sketch of the proposed car looks like an abridged version of Ford's Econo-van. The battery and the motor were installed under the floor on the driver's side of the vehicle.

Deaths

MR. FRANK L. CRITES
Mr. Frank L. Crites, 91, Stoutsville, died 6:15 p. m. Saturday in Berger Hospital.

Mr. Crites was born Jan. 9, 1875, in Fairfield County, the son of Allen and Mary Stebleton Crites. He was a retired grocer in Stoutsville.

Surviving are his widow, Blanch Stout Crites; two sons, Gailard Keith Crites, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and Nelson A. Crites, Columbus; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Louise Sheely, Hanover, Pa., and Mrs. Rosemary Leckie, Dearborn, Mich.; two grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Services will be 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Defenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. Ray Bethel officiating. Burial will be in Maple Hill Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Man Can't Stop Wife's Suicide

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP)—A 20-year-old wife and mother threatened to shoot him too if he tried to stop her, the husband told Auglaize County authorities Sunday after his wife's suicide.

Dan Huey related that his wife, Inez, was on the sofa with a shotgun in her lap when he returned to their rural home from nearby Spencerville. He said he was helpless to stop her from shooting herself. She had been depressed for several days, he said.

Burglary Reported To City Police

Theodore Culp, 475 N. Court St., reported to Circleville Police his house was burglarized. Culp discovered the burglary at approximately 8 p. m. Sunday. Two telephones were taken from the residence, he claimed.

Gunshot Wound Is Fatal To Local Groceryman

Albert L. Crosby, 55, Starkey Drive, died of an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound at 3 p. m. yesterday in a grocery he operated at his home.

Police today are continuing an investigation of the shooting. However, Chief of Police Robert Temple emphasized that all evidence indicated Crosby shot himself.

Homer Queen, who may have been shot by Crosby, is the object of an area wide search today. He reportedly ran after the incident occurred and has not been seen since.

Police have reconstructed this account from evidence and testimony compiled:

CROSBY and his wife had been separated. She was living with relatives in Ashville. Sometime yesterday the deceased man had been to see his wife and convinced her to return home.

She arrived at the store just before 3 p. m. in a car driven by Queen. When they drove up to the front of the store, Crosby apparently started firing a .22 caliber revolver through the door of the building toward the car.

He then apparently turned the gun on himself. The slug entered the right temple and lodged in his skull. Death was believed to have been instantaneous.

Harry Timmons, who called police, said he was entering the store just as the first shots were fired. He and several youngsters near the building took cover.

According to Timmons, there was no one else in the store at the time. He stood guard at the door until police arrived. Police recovered two slugs from the rear seat of the automobile in which Queen and Mrs. Crosby were riding.

PICKAWAY County Coroner Dr. Ray Carroll is withholding an official statement as to the nature of the death pending completion of the police investigation.

Temple pointed out that Crosby was wearing a hat at the time of the death. There were powder marks on the hat. According to the autopsy report, there were other indications that the weapon was held at extremely close range.

Chief Temple said the primary concern at the moment is that Queen may have been seriously wounded and in need of medical attention.

Investigation of the shooting was handled by Sgt. Leroy Hawks, Sgt. Richard Anderson and patrolmen Wesley Barton and Robert Sadler.

Chief Temple commended his men for the thorough investigation they conducted. Assisting were officials from the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

MR. CROSBY was born Oct. 28, 1910 in Circleville. He is survived by his widow, Ethen Ison Crosby; three sons, Stanley, of Starkey Drive; James, a member of the armed forces serving in Germany; Arthur, S. Court St.; six step-children, Rollie Tigner, Dallas, Tex.; Mrs. Etta Julian, W. Union St., Robert Tigner, Half Ave.; William Jackson, Circleville; Stanley R. Jackson, both of Circleville; Mrs. Virginia Johnson, Ashville, 19 grandchildren, three great grandchildren;

One sister, Mrs. Mabel Bish, Columbus; three brothers, Charles, Sheridan, Wyo.; Lloyd and Willard, both of Circleville; and two half-brothers, Herman Dilts and Oran Tiltz, both of Circleville.

Funeral services will be 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Mader Funeral Home with the Rev. Basil Plants officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery. Friends may call in the Mader Funeral Home beginning 1 p. m. Tuesday.

Special Crime Hearings Slated in Jittery City

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Greenway Avenue residents bolt doors now. A hardware store sells out of chain locks. A City Council votes $20,000 to investigate crime.

A metropolis already jittery from a series of savage murders was jolted again last week by the slaughter of a chemical engineer, his pretty wife and their 4-year-old daughter in their suburban home.

That vicious crime "points up the need to do something as rapidly as possible," said Cincinnati Councilman John E. Held, who already had spearheaded a special inquiry into rising violence.

Cincinnati's City Council authorized a committee headed by Held to spend up to $20,000 investigating ways to stem crime and violence. Public hearings start Friday.

"This is the third time we've been out of chain door locks in two days," said Walter Hillmer, a hardware store manager. "We are selling a lot of door peepholes, too."

Gun sales have boomed since the killings began last December. Sales spurt anew after each incident.

In at least one suburb, residents are considering adoption of a distress signal. In another, a housewife is circulating petitions calling for more sheriff's officers. In Cincinnati, Held reports receiving many letters expressing a willingness to pay higher taxes if it means getting more policemen on the streets.

Throughout the area in southwestern Ohio and northern Kentucky, women refuse to open their doors for strangers.

Greenway Avenue in suburban Bridgetown used to be the sort of street where folks left their houses unlocked.

"They'll not be doing that anymore," said Richard J. Meyer, who found the bodies of his next door neighbors last Tuesday. Jerome Bricca, 28; his wife, Linda Jane, 24, a former airline stewardess, and their daughter, Deborah, 4 had been stabbed repeatedly. Mrs. Bricca had been raped.

So far no connection has been found between that crime and four other brutal killings.

They were: Emogene Harrington 56, wife of a University of Cincinnati space scientist, raped and strangled last Dec. 2 in the basement of her apartment house.

Louis Dant, 58, wife of a retired railroad employe, raped and strangled in her apartment April 4.

Jeannette M. Messer, 56, raped and strangled June 10 while walking her dog in a park. Barbara Bowman, 37, a secretary slain Aug. 14 after she unwittingly got into a stolen taxi cab. The driver tried to rob and attack her.

Miss Bowman was run down by the cab, then stabbed in the throat. She lived in the same section as Mrs. Dant, but police doubt her attacker is the same man who raped and strangled the three older women.

News Briefs

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — City bus drivers went into what they termed a "continuous meeting" at 2 a.m. today, leaving thousands of bus riders stranded in this city of nearly 850,000.

The drivers were demanding more pay.

There is no other public transportation except taxis, and the one firm operating in the city was so overcome with calls that it gave patrons no hope they could be picked up.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Joe Adeock, 40-year-old first baseman of the California Angels, has been signed to a two-year contract to manage the Cleveland Indians, the Indians and Angels announced today.

Woman Hurt In Car Crash

An elderly Zanesville woman was injured today when the car in which she was a passenger veered out of control on Route 56 one mile southeast of Circleville.

Mrs. Gilbert McConnell, 71, was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment.

The car in which she was a passenger crashed through five fences and hit a utility pole. The driver was Mrs. Jane Hull, 65, Zanesville. The auto was demolished, according to Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley.

Mrs. Hull told the deputy she lost control when the auto got into loose gravel on the edge of the road.

In an accident investigated yesterday by Deputy George Linder, Anna Louise Woolridge, 39, Columbus, was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital for bruises of the head and face. She lost control of her car at the intersection of Route 104 and Durrett Road.

Vandalism Reported

Jess Hewitt, a construction superintendent, told Circleville Police Vandalism had damaged a house under construction at Edgewood and Forst Drives.

Ford Reports New Battery Breakthrough

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. reported today it has achieved a major breakthrough by developing a new type battery which could pave the way for return of the electric-powered auto to U.S. highways.

Michael Ference Jr., Ford vice president for scientific research, said the new battery could store up to 15 times as much energy as present lead-acid storage batteries.

The firm disclosed Sept. 15 that it was working on the electric car project.

Ference said in a prepared statement that Ford Motor Co. and Ford of England have joined forces to build two prototype models of the proposed electric car.

The two companies described the new product, the first experimental model of which is being built in England now, as "a low-cost, subcompact limited performance 'city car' to carry two adults and two children."

The first two cars, one designed for testing in England and the other in metropolitan suburban areas of the United States, will be powered initially by lead-acid batteries, such as those now used in cars.

Ference said Ford has developed a new type sodium-sulfur battery, which is still in its early stages.

He added, "It promises to meet the over-all needs of an efficient, low-cost, compact, urban-suburban electric vehicle requiring only overnight recharging."

Ference estimated that the electric car, powered by the new battery, would have a range of 150 miles a 40-miles-an-hour speed.

An artist's sketch of the proposed car looks like an abridged version of Ford's Econo-van. The battery and the motor were installed under the floor on the driver's side of the vehicle.

Deaths

MR. FRANK L. CRITES
Mr. Frank L. Crites, 91, Stoutsville, died 6:15 p. m. Saturday in Berger Hospital.

Mr. Crites was born Jan. 9, 1875, in Fairfield County, the son of Allen and Mary Stebleton Crites. He was a retired grocer in Stoutsville.

Surviving are his widow, Blanch Stout Crites; two sons, Gailand Keith Crites, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and Nelson A. Crites, Columbus; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Louise Sheely, Hanover, Pa., and Mrs. Rosemary Leckie, Dearborn, Mich.; two grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Services will be 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Defenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. Ray Bethel officiating. Burial will be in Maple Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Man Can't Stop Wife's Suicide

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP)—A 20-year-old wife and mother threatened to shoot him too if he tried to stop her, the husband told Auglaize County authorities Sunday after his wife's suicide.

Dan Huey related that his wife, Inez, was on the sofa with a shotgun in her lap when he returned to their rural home from nearby Spencerville. He said he was helpless to stop her from shooting herself. She had been depressed for several days, he said.

Burglary Reported To City Police

Theodore Culp, 475 N. Court St., reported to Circleville Police his house was burglarized. Culp discovered the burglary at approximately 8 p. m. Sunday. Two telephones were taken from the residence, he claimed.

Gunshot Wound Is Fatal To Local Groceryman

Albert L. Crosby, 55, Starkey Drive, died of an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound at 3 p. m. yesterday in a grocery he operated at his home.

Police today are continuing an investigation of the shooting. However, Chief of Police Robert Temple emphasized that all evidence indicated Crosby shot himself.

Homer Queen, who may have been shot by Crosby, is the object of an area wide search today. He reportedly ran after the incident occurred and has not been seen since.

Police have reconstructed this account from evidence and testimony compiled:

CROSBY and his wife had been separated. She was living with relatives in Ashville. Sometime yesterday the deceased man had been to see his wife and convinced her to return home.

She arrived at the store just before 3 p. m. in a car driven by Queen. When they drove up to the front of the store, Crosby apparently started firing a .22 caliber revolver through the door of the building toward the car.

He then apparently turned the gun on himself. The slug entered the right temple and lodged in his skull. Death was believed to have been instantaneous.

Harry Timmons, who called police, said he was entering the store just as the first shots were fired. He and several youngsters near the building took cover.

According to Timmons, there was no one else in the store at the time. He stood guard at the door until police arrived.

Police recovered two slugs from the rear seat of the automobile in which Queen and Mrs. Crosby were riding.

PICKAWAY County Coroner Dr. Ray Carroll is withholding an official statement as to the nature of the death pending completion of the police investigation.

Temple pointed out that Crosby was wearing a hat at the time of the death. There were powder marks on the hat. According to the autopsy report, there were other indications that the weapon was held at extremely close range.

Chief Temple said the primary concern at the moment is that Queen may have been seriously wounded and in need of medical attention.

Investigation of the shooting was handled by Sgt. Leroy Hawks, Sgt. Richard Anderson and patrolmen Wesley Barton and Robert Sadler.

Chief Temple commended his men for the thorough investigation they conducted. Assisting were officials from the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

MR. CROSBY was born Oct. 28, 1910 in Circleville. He is survived by his widow, Ethel Ison Crosby; three sons, Stanley, of Starkey Drive; James, a member of the armed forces serving in Germany; Arthur, S. Court St.; six step-children, Rolfe Tigner, Dallas, Tex.; Mrs. Etta Julian, W. Union St.; Robert Tigner, Half Ave.; William Jackson, Circleville; Stanley R. Jackson, both of Circleville; Mrs. Virginia Johnson, Ashville, 19 grandchildren; three great grandchildren.

One sister, Mrs. Mabel Bish, Columbus; three brothers, Charles, Sheridan, Wyo.; Lloyd and Willard, both of Circleville; and two half-brothers, Herman Dilts and Oran Tiltz, both of Circleville.

Funeral services will be 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Mader Funeral Home with the Rev. Basil Platts officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery. Friends may call in the Mader Funeral Home beginning 1 p. m. Tuesday.

The unions want a cost of living clause written into the proposed three-year contract. The GEIUE conference board said Sunday that "unless we get adequate protection, anything we negotiate now—the value of wages, vacations, holidays, pensions and insurance—can be years."

The company has offered wage increases of 4 per cent yearly for three years and other improvements, including a partial cost of living clause, said to be worth at least 6 cents an hour per year.

Union officials say their men presently average $2.80 in wages and 45 cents in fringe benefits.

BPO Elks To Initiate 3 Candidates

An inspection of Circleville BPO Elks Lodge 77 will be conducted Tuesday when three candidates will be initiated.

The candidates for the Lodge are Robert Farrar, 115 Nicholas Drive; Dick Tootle, Route 2; and Ralph Hoffman Sr., 529 S. Court St.

Conducting the inspection will be Harry H. Stoops, district deputy grand exalted ruler of the South Central District.

Stoops has been in Elks since 1940. He was exalted ruler of the Portsmouth Lodge in 1960-61 and the following year was president of the past exalted rulers association.

A WORKER on a number of committees, he is presently a member of the Youth Leadership Program committee.

Associated with the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. for over 38 years, he is a member of supervision at the Goodyear Atomic Corporation, Piketon.

Violence Erupts At Meat Plant, Guard Refused

HARLAN, Iowa (AP) — Bullets and rocks flew at a strike bound meat packing plant in this little western Iowa town early today, but Gov. Harold Hughes refused a sheriff's plea to call out the National Guard.

The violence subsided at least temporarily with arrival of a district judge at the Western Iowa Pork Co. plant.

Union leaders said they would not be responsible for anything that happened and pledged a labor march on Harlan if Guardsmen are called out.

No serious injuries were reported, but several pickets and replacement workers suffered cuts and bruises.

Virtually every window in the plant was broken by bullets or rocks late Sunday night and early today. Five trailers brought in by the company to house new employees were overturned.

Pickets shielded by a crude barricade they had set up hurled a rain of rocks and chunks of concrete on a car carrying six supervisory personnel entering the plant, smashing the vehicle's windows.

Things settled down this morning when Judge Bennett Cullison of Shelby County District Court arrived at the plant to check reports his injunction limiting pickets to four at each of two plant entrances was being violated.

Sheriff Orrell Gearhart said before the judge arrived, his 34 law enforcement officers — some drawn from as far as 90 miles away — were outnumbered 2-1 by angry members of Local 1225 of the AFL-CIO United Packinghouse Food and Allied Workers Union.

For a time, said the sheriff, they were unable even to get a doctor into the plant to tend to the injured. Strikers were firing guns but mostly into the air and not toward officers, he added.

Edward Hannan, general manager of the plant, said the striking union has not been recognized as official bargaining agent for employees, because another union is contesting results of a representation election held last April.

Hannan said he hired about 30 to 35 new workers, and about 15 of the 150 strikers returned to work.

"We absolutely need the National Guard to enforce the court injunction," said the plant manager.

But Gov. Hughes said he had no intention of calling out the National Guard "at this moment."

Hughes noted the firm has not met with the union since last spring, adding:

"If we can get the two parties to sit down and talk, it will be a step in the right direction."

Woman Listed 'Critical' after Gun Wound

Mrs. Cletha Conners, 41, of 141 1/2 York St., is listed in "critical" condition today in University Hospital, Columbus, suffering from an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Mrs. Conner apparently shot herself in the chest with a .22 caliber revolver at approximately 7 p. m. "yesterday," Circleville Police said.

She was reportedly despondent over "family problems," police said.

Raids Hurt U.S. Cuba Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Groans of dismay are heard at the State Department each time anti-Castro exiles stage a hit-and-run raid on Cuba.

It's not that U.S. officials have sympathy for Fidel Castro's Communist regime — they hope and believe it will collapse sooner or later under Washington's policy of economic and diplo-matic boycott.

But they insist the raids serve no useful purpose. One official puts it this way: "Such raids do not weaken the grip of the regime. Indeed, they may strengthen it."

Beyond that, U.S. officials say such attacks only give Castro new propaganda material — and sometimes embarrasses Washington.

Department officials said today the U.S. government is investigating the latest bombing raid to determine whether there has been a violation of U.S. neutrality laws.

The government-controlled Havana radio this week said a "pirate plane" had dropped three bombs near the north coast city of Nuevitas, a major sugar-loading port. Only one of the bombs exploded, and it fell about 1,500 feet from its apparent target, an electric power plant under construction, the broadcast said. It blamed "U.S. imperialism" for the new attack.

Spokesmen for two exile groups in Miami said 1,200 pounds of explosives were dumped on sugar warehouses, oil tanks, a naval base and a power plant during the raid, which they said caused considerable damage. One exile leader said the plane involved left from a base outside the United States and returned there safely.

In Washington, a State Department official repeated a statement made earlier:

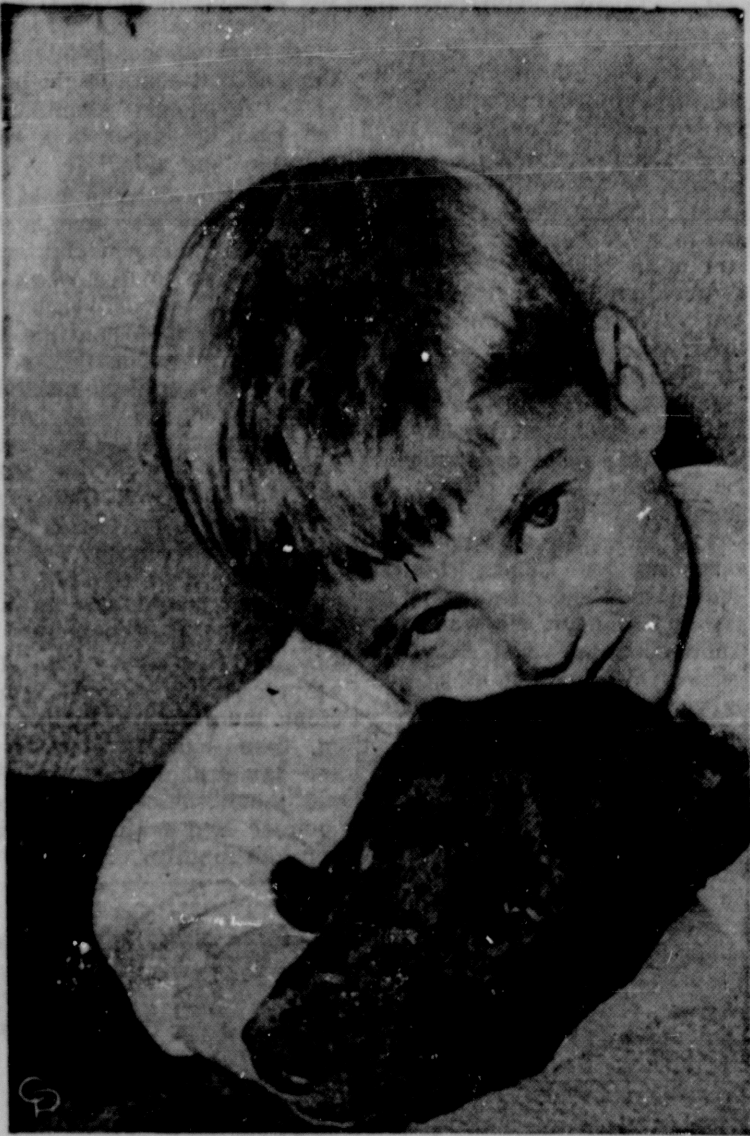

"Our strong opposition to this kind of indiscriminate, irresponsible activity has been made repeatedly clear." The same policy, he added, applies to the Sept. 22 explosion of a home-made bomb which shattered windows in the Cuban Embassy in Oawa. An exile group in Miami also claimed responsibility for this incident.

Despite State Department objections, the exiles now are passing the word that such raids on the island will be stepped up. The exiles contend even if the attacks are of no great military value, they serve to tell anti-Castro elements within Cuba that the exiles are doing what they can to oust the regime.

Tax Comparisons

Because of the continuing hints that federal taxes in the United States may rise again next year, a study released by Commerce Clearing House on the competitive tax advantages between Canada and the U. S. is timely.

What the study shows is that the advantage in the great majority of cases lies with Canada. In some income categories, the advantage is considerable.

Commerce Clearing House, a nationwide authority on tax and business law, reports that a married American with two small children would pay $290 in taxes on a $5,000 income. His Canadian counterpart would pay only $205.

Similarly, at the $10,000 income level the U. S. taxpayer would pay $1,114 and the Canadian $987. Single taxpayers are socked hardest in both countries, but the U. S. bachelor might consider fleeing north when he learns an income of $10,000 costs $1,742 in U. S. taxes but "only" $1,313 in Canadian. Canadians have another advantage at all income levels with family allowances ranging from $72 to $96 per child for children under 16.

Only at income levels in excess of $20,000 do Canadians pay more taxes than Americans. The tax bill for our theoretical taxpayer then becomes $3,858 Canadian and $3,764 U. S.

There are several obvious conclusions to be drawn from the CCH comparative study. The main one, of course, is that the average U. S. taxpayer pays significantly higher federal taxes than his Canadian counterpart. The single taxpayer is placed at a particular disadvantage in the United States.

Since federal taxes are only a part of the burden taxpayers everywhere must carry, a comparison of local or state and provincial taxes between the two neighbors would be equally illuminating. The suspicion is well founded, considering the rapid growth of such taxes in the United States during the last decade, that the U. S. has lost that comparison also.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One of the boons to mankind that Marco Polo brought back to Italy from China was macaroni. Last year U. S. families ate 1,751,404,809 pounds of macaroni products.

Maty dogs seem to like the flavor of mailmen. They bite about 7,000 a year, and this costs Uncle Sam a million bucks in sick leave and medical expenses.

If you think highways are crowded now, here's a forecast to mull over: Beginning in 1970, the annual crop of boys and girls who become old enough to drive will exceed four million.

Sweet courtship: In Honduras, an Indian lad proposes marriage by offering his girl a gift of cocoa beans. If she accepts, they serve chocolate at the wedding.

Psychologists say that up to five million Americans — one out of every 40 persons — have tried to take their lives at least once. But obviously most of them didn't try very hard.

War is still a young man's game — and particularly jungle warfare. The average age of combat soldiers in many U. S. units in Viet Nam is only 18½.

Quotable notables: "Fear has always seemed to me to be the worst stumbling block which anyone has to face. It is the great cripper. My childhood and early youth were one long battle against fear" — Eleanor Roosevelt.

Political payoff: Members of the Greek Parliament have the use of two telephones each without charge. So, to win good will and votes, they usually install one of the telephones in their home district and let constituents make free phone calls to relatives all over Greece. Wouldn't that work wonders for a U. S. politician!

Tea, not coffee, is the most popular beverage in the world. Americans alone drink 31 billion cups a year.

The good old days: Doctors sometimes put the letters "PP" on a prescription. It was their way of letting the pharmacist know the patient was a "poor person," and should be charged accordingly.

Folk lore: It's bad luck to carry a hoe into the house. You'll have a bad accident if you put both sock and shoe on one foot before putting a sock on the other foot. The first dream you have while sleeping under a new blanket or quilt will come true. Munching caraway or dill seeds will keep you from having hiccups in church.

Insect hercules: For its size, the ant is the world's strongest creature; it can lift 50 times its own weight. If your 125-pound wife were that muscular, she could carry home more than three tons of groceries at a time from the supermarket.

It was George Bernard Shaw who observed, "Except during the nine months before he draws his first breath, no man manages his affairs as well as a tree does."

BASEBALL FANS are unlikely to forget the antics of a one-time Met first baseman named Marvelous Marv Throneberry. To put it mildly, Marv was not the greatest fielder in major league annals — and nobody knew it better than Marv himself. For one Sunday double-header, a banner crowd turned out and over the loud-speaker came the announcement, "Anybody interfering with a ball in play will be ejected immediately from the park." Throneberry looked worried and asked Casey Stengel, "Do you think they mean me?"

Ralph Nader, whose book, "Unsafe at Any Speed," has turned many an erstwhile speedster into a conservative and cautious driver, received a letter from one reader who advised that before reading his book, she and her husband had been wont to take separate planes. Now, however, they drive to the airport in separate cars and fly on the same plane.

FABLE: A little wristwatch, tired of being concealed beneath a cuff, looked enviously up at Big Ben, the booming clock in the tower of London's Parliament Building. "That's where I'd like to be," ticked the wristwatch, "where everybody could see and hear me."

And suddenly, the little wristwatch's dream came true. It was transported to the tower. But from below, it was, of course, invisible. Its elevation had become its annihilation.

What causes a wound or an infected area to feel warm?

When a wound becomes infected, the body defenses are set in motion, almost like an army battalion ready to fight an aggressor.

The call is out for more blood to be brought to the infected area, bringing up the white blood cells as a first line of defense.

These events are responsible for the five classical symptoms of infection, originally described more than a 1,000 years ago. Color (heat), dolor (pain, rubor (redness), tumor (swelling), and functio laesa (disordered function of the body).

The reddish discoloration that occurs with an infection can be bluish or even a purplish depending on the severity of the inflammation.

The color of the infected area changes when an abscess forms and "comes to a head." When the infection is controlled, the redness and swelling slowly disappears and the appearance returns to normal.

What is responsible for ridges across the thumbnail?

It has been suggested that the nervous habit of picking or scratching the nail can do damage to it especially at the sensitive cuticle area.

Thumbnail ridges do not indicate any general physical condition.

When the local injury to the nail is stopped the new nail will almost always come out nor mal.

Can emotional upsets be responsible for hardening of the arteries?

It is now accepted that every single physical defect or illness is in some way related to emotional disturbances.

As a physician I have never seen a patient who is emotionally unaffected in some degree by his illness.

Sometimes the balance rests heavily in the physical direction and at other times the emotional reactions are dominant.

Dr. Hans Selye, a famous authority on the problems of stress, has shown that hardening of the arteries leading to high blood pressure and coronary heart disease can be traced to the impact of emotional disturbances.

It has been suspected that the cycle works in this manner. An emotional disturbance causes more adrenalin to be poured into the blood stream, helping to produce the changes within the blood vessels that eventually cause arteriosclerosis. There are of course many other factors that include fatty cholesterol diets, immoderate tobacco and alcohol, and obesity.

Even slight injuries to the nose can cause fractures that leave deformities.

Chiang and Asia's Europe

By John Chamberlain

TAIPEI, Taiwan—The message came while our party was inspecting the naval port and big oil refinery of Kaohsiung on the south coast of Taiwan: I could see President Chiang Kai-shek. Since the news from Red China would seem to make it appear that a year of great and unforeseen opportunity may be dawning for the Free Chinese to exploit troubles on the mainland, I hurried back to Taipei as fast as I could. The typhoon clouds that enveloped the plane for a trip of a couple of hundred miles over the mountainous spine of the beautiful island seemed just as opaque and the future of Asia, but possibly Chiang, who had fought the Communists for forty years and remains the Generalissimo of 600,000 crack troops, could offer something to pierce the obscurity.

Presently I found myself being driven to the summer home of President Chiang on Yang Ming Mountain, which, significantly, is named for a Confucian scholar who said "to know is not enough you must act on it." James Shen, the Generalissimo's interpreter for ten years, had told me that his boss, who is nearing eighty, is in excellent shape, but I wasn't prepared for the youngish, almost dapper, person who entered the room and bade me be seated beneath one of his wife's remarkable paintings.

The interview was not quite orthodox, for Chiang himself did most of the questioning for a full half hour. He wanted to know about the whole American scene. One question in particular cracked through the room. In James Shen's paraphrase it was, "What would be the reaction in the United States if the Free Chinese were to invade the mainland on their own?"

I tried to answer as carefully as I could. The American attitude would surely be conditioned by fear. The nature of the response would depend on the degree of provocation: Americans need the sinking of a "Maine" or a Pearl Harbor or a Cuban missile crisis to bring them to accept the risk of war. I said there would be a howl from the Left if the Free Chinese were to try invasion, and mentioned the American attitude as of the year 1937, when Franklin D. Roosevelt's famous "quarantine the aggressors" speech provoked a wave of apprehension. But, as in 1937, there could be second thoughts.

Then, as the interview developed, it became apparent that the Generalissimo was thinking that historical opportunity might present itself in compelling fashion at an unforeseen moment. He spoke about Lin Piao, Red China's Defense Minister and Mao's anointed candidate for future leadership. When Mao goes, there is a question whether Lin Piao will have the loyalty of the army. As Chiang outlined it, the fact that Mao and Lin turned to the Red Guard rather than thrust the so-called Liberation Army to carry through the purges of the "cultural revolution" could be a portent of future defections. During the civil war Lin Piao commanded the Fourth Field Army, and presumably the soldiers of this unit would stick by him. But the First Army was commanded by Peng Teh-huai, who was fired from his job as Lin's predecessor in the Defense Ministry in 1959. The Second Army was headed by Liu Po-chen, the "one-eyed general," who has been relieved. And the Third Army was led by Che Yi, now the Foreign Minister. As Taiwan intelligence sees it, there could be disillusioned subordinates in at least half of the Red Chinese forces. And military defection has played a big role in Chinese history in the past.

I asked the Generalissimo if military defectors in a coming Red break-up might go over to the side of the Soviet Union, thus precipitating a three-cornered fight on the mainland. He thought that some might be loyal to "revisionist" Communism, but said the great bulk would come to "our side."

The Generalissimo held out no hope that Mao or Lin Piao can be led to peaceful ways. Within three to five years Red China will have deliverable atomic missiles. When that time comes, a mere local U. S. victory in Vietnam will dwindle to a side issue. Mao and Lin figure they could sacrifice 300,000,000 Chinese in an atomic war and still win. Chiang said there will be no chance for a "soft," or Khrushchev-type, generation to develop in Red China, as it did over a forty-year period in Russia, for history is running too fast. Atomic technology is moving much more swiftly in Red China than biological processes, and the crunch with the West will come before a peaceful younger Red mainland generation can mature.

The logic of the Generalissimo's views is that a successful pre-emptive invasion of the mainland by the Free Chinese before Mao and Lin have atomic power will save the United States a great tragedy. But will the easy, optimistic American people listen?

Your Health Through Chiropractic
LOW BACK PAINS OFTEN INDICATE FEMALE TROUBLE
DR. HERMAN H. SHUTTLEWORTH
Chiropractor

Female disorders without low back pains are rare indeed. Yet, seldom do women connect the two.

After many hundreds of cases we find most all female trouble associated with low backaches. But, this is easily explained.

The nerves that come out of the spinal column at the belt area just above the hips divide into two main branches. They make a "Y" like a super highway. Usually, when these nerve trunks are irritated at their spinal belt, both branches are affected.

The irritated nerve lines forming one leg of the "Y" causes the muscular aches and pains in the low back area and perhaps down in your legs (frequently called "sciatica").

The irritated nerves in the other part of the "Y" (controlling the pelvic organs) often cause cramps, irregular periods, and other more serious disorders of the lower pelvic area.

Any disturbance of the female organs and any abnormal formations such as cysts and tumors, etc., must have a cause. No abnormal function or growth develops without a cause. Cysts don't just happen! Your "control factor" is your central nervous system — it must function free of interference to be healthy.

Consider this case from our clinic files. The control factor had a disturbance — a repairable disturbance, if you know what to repair.

A twenty-three year old school teacher became irritable and intolerant with her first grade pupils and all for good reason. She had been irregular, enduring severe cramps, nausea, nervousness, and throbbing headaches for over six months in spite of doctor's efforts.

She suffered also with backaches, constipation, heart palpitations, and constant nervous indigestion. Our nerve instrument recorded nerve disturbances in her lower back. She recalled a bad fall years previous that had bothered her ever since. X-rays enabled the Doctor of Chiropractic to correct her spinal injury and relieve the nerve pressures causing her miserable symptoms. When discharged she reported she was regular again and feeling wonderful.

It is difficult to work or be a good wife and mother when suffering with — female trouble. You do not have to live with your troubles. When female trouble persists, have your chiropractor examine your spine and nervous system.

NEW YORK (AP)—An emotion molded of bitterness, concern and doubt has enveloped many businessmen as they see the tax credits that had spurred their spending withdrawn like a sweet from a child.

For a while it sounded as if business had given much more support than it has to the President's anti-inflation plans. Much of the apparent support was anything but that.

Few industrialists or corporations gave broad endorsements, as did Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., and William Murphy, president of Campbell Soup Co.

Some of the endorsements were like skim milk masquerading as cream.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States proclaimed the "Chamber welcomes LBJ's moves to curb spending," but it shouted as loudly that suspension of the investment tax credit would be ineffective or damaging.

The chairman of American Telephone Telegraph Co., Frederic R. Kappel, endorsed the proposal to suspend the investment tax credit and fast tax writeoffs. As a utility, ATT received a credit of only 3 per cent, not 7 per cent, as did manufacturers.

Stuart Saunders, chairman of the Pennsylvania Railroad, endorsed the proposals but suggested that railroads and other industries be considered candidates for exemption.

Wall Street saluted the anti-inflation action, but the considered judgments that followed a few days later showed their views scaled down to approval of the moves as "psychologically" important.

Many businessmen believe in less government spending as the foremost anti-inflation weapon and they complimented the President for offering to cut $3 billion from federal plans. Beyond that there is barely a consensus.

1. Some believe suspension of tax credits would be unfair in that it singles out business. "Corporation's can't vote; individual taxpayers can," said the Chamber of Commerce. If an increase in taxes is needed, the chamber said, let it apply to everyone.

2. Another group believes the remedy would be relatively ineffective. A study by the National Industrial Conference Board, a private organization, found that most businessmen surveyed thought this would be the case.

3. Still another group feels the suspension of tax credits might be damaging, that it might produce its biggest impact when the economy needs a spur — not a restrainer.

Taxes are controversial. They are rigid. It takes time and trouble to get them enacted and later retracted. They can become effective after the inflationary damage is done, and then do more damage — like a fire after a tornado.

Johnson's entire antiinflation record this year has been a flexible one: speed up corporate tax payments, cut spending, encourage restraint. When forced to handle taxes he chose a flexible fringe — a tax credit. And he didn't ask that it be eliminated; only suspended.

Will it be enough? The post election measures could be creative and surprising and flexible.

Chiang and Asia's Europe

By John Chamberlain

TAIPEI, Taiwan—The message came while our party was inspecting the naval port and big oil refinery of Kaohsiung on the south coast of Taiwan: I could see President Chiang Kai-shek. Since the news from Red China would seem to make it appear that a year of great and unforeseen opportunity may be dawning for the Free Chinese to exploit troubles on the mainland, I hurried back to Taipei as fast as I could. The typhoon clouds that enveloped the plane for a trip of a couple of hundred miles over the mountainous spine of the beautiful island seemed just as opaque and the future of Asia, but possibly Chiang, who had fought the Communists for forty years and remains the Generalissimo of 600,000 crack troops, could offer something to pierce the obscurity.

Presently I found myself being driven to the summer home of President Chiang on Yang Ming Mountain, which, significantly, is named for a Confucian scholar who said "to know is not enough you must act on it." James Shen, the Generalissimo's interpreter for ten years, had told me that his boss, who is nearing eighty, is in excellent shape, but I wasn't prepared for the young, almost dapper, person who entered the room and bade me be seated beneath one of his wife's remarkable paintings.

The interview was not quite orthodox, for Chiang himself did most of the questioning for a full half hour. He wanted to know about the whole American scene. One question in particular cracked through the room. In James Shen's paraphrase it was, "What would be the reaction in the United States if the Free Chinese were to invade the mainland on their own?"

I tried to answer as carefully as I could. The American attitude would surely be conditioned by fear. The nature of the response would depend on the degree of provocation: Americans need the sinking of a "Maine" or a Pearl Harbor or a Cuban missile crisis to bring them to accept the risk of war. I said there would be a howl from the Left if the Free Chinese were to try invasion, and mentioned the American attitude as of the year 1937, when Franklin D. Roosevelt's famous "quarantine the aggressors" speech provoked a wave of apprehension. But, as in 1937, there could be second thoughts.

Then, as the interview developed, it became apparent that the Generalissimo was thinking that historical opportunity might present itself in compelling fashion at an unforeseen moment. He spoke about Lin Piao, Red China's Defense Minister and Mao's anointed candidate for future leadership. When Mao goes, there is a question whether Lin Piao will have the loyalty of the army. As Chiang outlined it, the fact that Mao and Lin turned to the Red Guard rather than thrust the so-called Liberation Army to carry through the purges of the "cultural revolution" could be a portent of future defections. During the civil war Lin Piao commanded the Fourth Field Army, and presumably the soldiers of this unit would stick by him. But the First Army was commanded by Peng Teh-huai, who was fired from his job as Lin's predecessor in the Defense Ministry in 1959. The Second Army was headed by Liu Po-chen, the "one-eyed general," who has been relieved. And the Third Army was led by Che Yi, now the Foreign Minister. As Taiwan intelligence sees it, there could be disillusioned subordinates in at least half of the Red Chinese forces. And military defection has played a big role in Chinese history in the past.

I asked the Generalissimo if military defectors in a coming Red break-up might go over to the side of the Soviet Union, thus precipitating a three-cornered fight on the mainland. He thought that some might be loyal to "revisionist" Communism, but said the great bulk would come to "our side."

The Generalissimo held out no hope that Mao or Lin Piao can be led to peaceful ways. Within three to five years Red China will have deliverable atomic missiles. When that time comes, a mere local U. S. victory in Vietnam will dwindle to a side issue. Mao and Lin figure they could sacrifice 300,000,000 Chinese in an atomic war and still win. Chiang said there will be no chance for a "soft," or Khrushchev-type, generation to develop in Red China, as it did over a forty-year period in Russia, for history is running too fast. Atomic technology is moving much more swiftly in Red China than biological processes, and the crunch with the West will come before a peaceful younger Red mainland generation can mature.

The logic of the Generalissimo's views is that a successful pre-emptive invasion of the mainland by the Free Chinese before Mao and Lin have atomic power will save the United States a great tragedy. But will the easy, optimistic American people listen?

Your Health Through Chiropractic LOW BACK PAINS OFTEN INDICATE FEMALE TROUBLE

DR. HERMAN H. SHUTTLEWORTH
Chiropractor

Female disorders without low back pains are rare indeed. Yet, seldom do women connect the two.

After many hundreds of cases we find most all female trouble associated with low backaches. But, this is easily explained.

The nerves that come out of the spinal column at the belt area just above the hips divide into two main branches. They make a "Y" like a super highway. Usually, when these nerve trunks are irritated at their spinal belt, both branches are affected.

The irritated nerve lines forming one leg of the "Y" causes the muscular aches and pains in the low back area and perhaps down in your legs (frequently called "sciatica").

The irritated nerves in the other part of the "Y" (controlling the pelvic organs) often cause cramps, irregular periods, and other more serious disorders of the lower pelvic area.

Any disturbance of the female organs and any abnormal formations such as cysts and tumors, etc., must have a cause. No abnormal function or growth develops without a cause. Cysts don't just happen! Your "control factor" is your central nervous system — it must function free of interference to be healthy.

Consider this case from our clinic files. The control factor had a disturbance — a repairable disturbance, if you know what to repair.

A twenty-three year old school teacher became irritable and intolerant with her first grade pupils and all for good reason. She had been irregular, enduring severe cramps, nausea, nervousness, and throbbing headaches for over six months in spite of doctor's efforts.

She suffered also with backaches, constipation, heart palpitations, and constant nervous indigestion. Our nerve instrument recorded nerve disturbances in her lower back. She recalled a bad fall years previous that had bothered her ever since. X-rays enabled the Doctor of Chiropractic to correct her spinal injury and relieve the nerve pressures causing her miserable symptoms. When discharged she reported she was regular again and feeling wonderful.

It is difficult to work or be a good wife and mother when suffering with — female trouble. You do not have to live with your troubles. When female trouble persists, have your chiropractor examine your spine and nervous system.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Matchmaker Mismatches

DEAR ABBY: I have arranged many blind dates — some of which have resulted in successful marriages. A few months ago I introduced two people I thought would hit it off well. She is a 27-year-old school teacher, and he is a 36-year-old professional man I met through a relative. I was told the gentleman was a fine, eligible young man.

Naturally, I took eligible to mean marriageable. Well, a romance bloomed like you wouldn't believe, and the fine eligible young man turned out to be only SEPARATED from his wife — not divorced as I had been led to believe. The girl is Catholic, which complicates matters.

My husband said, "I hope you learned your lesson and have played Cupid for the last time." Abby, I don't see where any of this is my fault. I only arranged the date with the information I had been given in good faith. Am I responsible for this mess?

CUPID

DEAR CUPID: While matchmaking (an incurable avocation in most married women) tell each what you know about the other, but advise both to beware and find answer to all of their questions on their own.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter keeps asking me to invite her teachers to the house for dinner. I am not sure that would be a good idea.

My daughter is a better-than-average student, but I am afraid someone might get the idea that she is apple polishing. I would like your opinion.

MRS. F. IN PIEDMONT

DEAR MRS. F.: Invite the teachers. They enjoy an evening out in the home of students. Apple polishing? Applesauce!

DEAR ABBY: I am 36 and my husband is 59. We have been married for 16 years and have five children. My husband doesn't allow us to go to movies, parties, or anywhere that has entertainment. We don't own a TV, and the children can't go to any school activities if there is dance music.

My husband doesn't believe women should drive cars and I am so tired being cooped up all the time in a 4-room house with those religious programs going full blast. The only time we ever go out is on Sundays — to church. I love church, but don't you think we need something else?

NERVOUS

DEAR NERVOUS: Yes. Your husband sounds like a sick man, but his kind is usually the last to admit it. YOU go see a doctor (for your nerves, I'm sure they could use it) and describe your homelife to him. Then ask for his recommendation.

Helpful Hints For Washday

By ELEANOR ROSS

At the first bright hint of spring, even your freshly laundered wash may seem drab. And no wonder. During the winter months it has been subjected to extra dirt circulated around the house by the heating system, and to soap detergent residu from repeated washings which leave their mark in the form of that old bugaboo, tattle-tale gray. And it's been deprived of its opportunity to flap on the line and absorb the brightening rays of the sun.

To put the sparkle back in sheets, pillowcases and towels as well as those items that see wash water less frequently — such as bedspread, curtains, throw rugs, etc. — give them a spring freshening just as you do for the house.

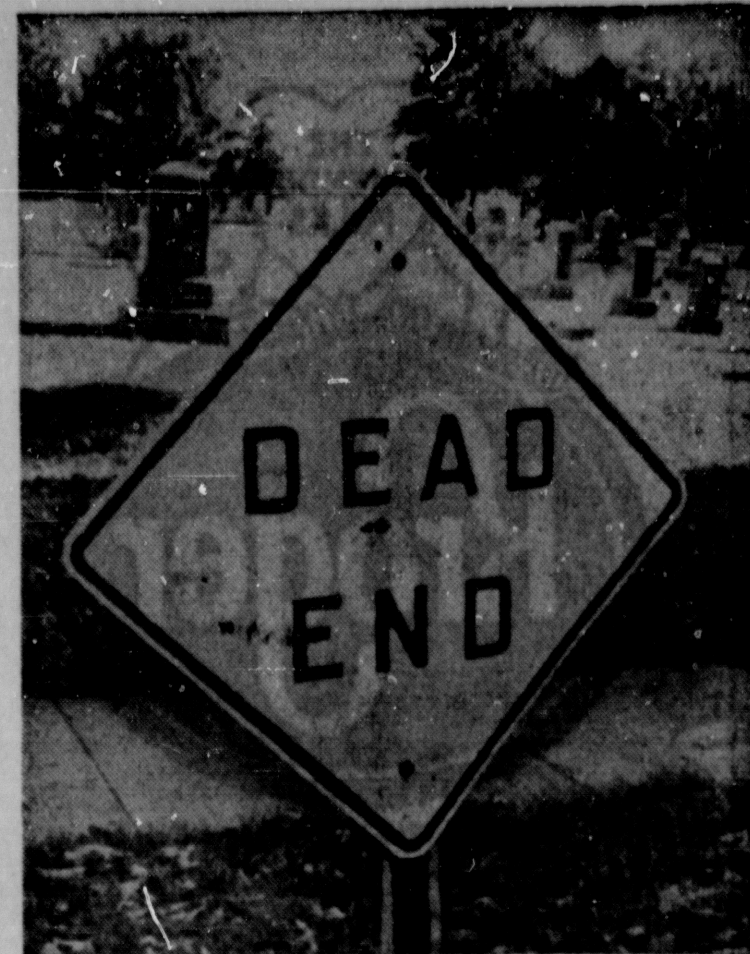

A simple process — stripping beds, etc. — is the start. Gather together everything in need of a treatment, freshly laundered items included. Deal them out into white and colored heaps of the proper weight, including large and small items in each.

With the water temperature set at "hot" add with five tablespoons of good old sal soda concentrated added to each washer load, run the laundry through the regular cycle minus detergent, fabric softener or other laundry additives. Check the final rinse water. If there's a trace of suds or grayness, repeat the process until the rinse water runs out clear.

At that point, you're rid of detergent build-up, and white items will have shed grayness; colored items will be rid of the dullness that obscures their hue.

To help prevent a recurrence of the drab look, try adding three tablespoons of sal soda concentrated to both wash and rinse water at all future laundries. If softens the water cuts loose the dirt and stain and helps keep fabrics soft.

Just remember since sal soda is primarily a water softener, you should use less detergent than you usually do or you will have more suds than your bargain for.

YOU CAN SAY THAT AGAIN—The Street Department in Mechanicsburg, Pa., may have a grim sense of humor. On the other hand, Frederick Street DOES end here.

On this date in 1789, President George Washington proclaimed Nov. 26 a day of general thanksgiving. President Abraham Lincoln, on this day in 1863, declared Thanksgiving Day would be observed the last Thursday of November.

On this date:
In 1935, Italian forces began the invasion of Ethiopia.

In 1941, Nazi leader Adolf Hitler said: "Russia is already broken and will never rise again."

In 1944, American troops cracked the Siegfried Line north of Aachen in Germany.

Ten years ago — Israel announced it was boycotting the Israel-Jordan mixed armistice commission, this because Israel said the group had failed in its responsibilities to draw a distinction between attacker and attacked.

Five years ago—Ford Motor Co. workers throughout the nation went on strike in the first company-wide walkout during the firm's 20-years of dealings with the United Auto Workers Union. The strike was over non-economic issues such as production standards.

One year ago — President Johnson signed the immigration bill in a ceremony at the Statue of Liberty.

SDX Hears AP Manager At Ohio U

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, will speak at Ohio University Tuesday in one of the three Sigma Delta Chi foundation lectures held in the United States this year.

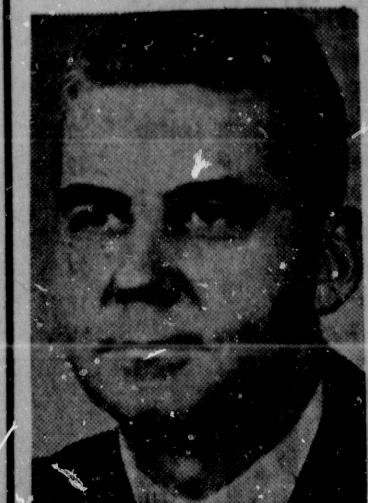

Gallagher's lecture on "the dedicated journalist" at 8 p. m. in Ohio University's Bromley Hall will be open to the public, as well as to members of the professional journalism society.

Gallagher has served as a foreign correspondent in 26 countries, directed the AP's coverage of the 1944 invasion of France and covered most of the big four foreign ministers' meeting in post-war Europe.

Serving as AP bureau chief in Germany from 1945 to 1950, Gallagher covered the Nuremberg war trials, the Berlin blockade and the gradual recovery of West Germany from the effects of World War II.

Gallagher was elected a Sigma Delta Chi fellow last year, receiving the society's highest award for editorial performance and contributions to the profession.

YOUNG TREND

ADVISES SEYMOUR'S "GET WITH IT"

HERE IS THE REASON

"PROBLEMS" is the name of the game today. Events and methods are changing so rapidly it is almost impossible to keep up with them. The biggest problem faced today is the factory back-log on merchandise. In many cases our best sellers are on 4 to 6 months delivery from the factories, which are short on fabrics and manpower due to the war effort. "Young Trend" buyers aware of this situation, after careful analysis, have devised plans and methods where-by we can get speedy delivery on nationally advertised merchandise from major manufacturers. It means selling out our floor stock as presently shown and "Get With It" on floor samples which we will be able to offer you, our customer, a grand selection of nationally advertised furniture AND DELIVER now, not six months later. Also, if we are assured of being in stock and rapidly replacing our inventory, we'll be able to offer you even lower prices, based on turn-over, as against the rapidly rising prices and excessive cost of warehousing. Take advantage of this sale. You should enjoy the deep cut prices on major furniture lines and save real money.

TWIN AWARDS — E. G. Grigg (left), manager of General Electric's Circleville Lamp plant, presents Clayton Vaughan with a 35-year service award. In a surprise turnabout, Vaughan then presented Grigg with an award for 30 years of GE service. Both men have compiled more than half of their industrial experience in the Circleville community.

Two of First GE Officials Honored for Long Service

Eighteen year ago next month, General Electric produced its first lamp in Circleville.

Among those present were several GE "first families" who had moved to Circleville well ahead of the opening. They participated in the planning and construction phases of start-up operations.

Two of these men have been honored with service awards. They are Clayton Vaughan, who celebrates his 35th year with GE, and E. G. Grigg, who recently completed his 30th year of service.

Grigg, local plant manager, presented the 35-year award to Vaughan in a ceremony attended by all members of GE's local supervisory staff. In a surprise turnabout, Vaughan then presented Grigg with his 30-year award.

FOR BOTH men, over half of their industrial experience has been in Circleville. Together, they represent more than 36 years of service to this community.

Vaughan, senior member of GE's local quarter century club, began his career in Buffalo, N. Y., as a toolmaker. In 1932, he transferred to Youngstown Lamp plant, serving in the machine shop and as a group leader. He became master mechanic of the East Cleveland Lamp Works in 1939.

In 1948, Vaughan came to Circleville as master mechanic. He was the second supervisory employe to be named at the local plant.

He attended the University of Buffalo, Hiram College, and Case in Cleveland. He is a registered mechanical engineer.

Vaughan, who lives at 427 Northridge Road, is a past district chairman and finance chairman of the Boy Scouts, and past chairman for the business section of the Community Fund.

He is a trustee of the American Red Cross and a member of the local Masonic Order and Aladdin Temple of the Shrine.

He is also a statewide trustee and public relations chairman for the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers. He is married and has two children, both of whom are teachers in Ohio. Grigg, a native of Richmond, Va., and is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute where he earned degrees in electrical and industrial engineering. He also took undergraduate and graduate work in business administration at Western Reserve University during his career in industry.

The plant manager joined General Electric in 1936 as a test engineer in Pittsfield, Mass., and had other test engineering assignments in Philadelphia, Pa., and Schenectady, N. Y., before joining the Lamp Division in Cleveland. He had Lamp Division assignments at Euclid Lamp, Jackson, Miss., Buffalo, N. Y., and in the home office in Circleville as plant manager.

Grigg has served Circleville in many capacities over the years. He was one of the original organizers of the Pickaway County Community Fund and has served many of the member organizations in various capacities. He is a past chairman of the Blood Bank Program, and past president of Rotary.

Currently, Grigg is vice president of the Circleville School Board, a member of the Republican Central Committee, and elder in the Presbyterian Church and chairman of the local Economic Opportunity organization.

Grigg is married and has four sons. He and his family reside at 905 Atwater Ave.

Politicians Start Big City Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio politicians are about to wind up their footwork in the state's small counties and villages after one of their most intensive grass roots campaigns in years.

They plan to invade the big cities in the closing weeks of the campaign and at the same time woo voters statewide with television commercials extolling the virtues of their parties and candidates.

Democrats in particular are expected to make wide use of the electronic media to boost the image of youthful state Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., running for governor in his first statewide race.

The 36-year-old Reams has not had the advantage of GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes whose face is familiar to almost every Ohioan. Democrats will count on television to help overcome the advantage.

Reams is personable and is no stranger to television. In addition to his law practice, he is a former vice president of a television station in Toledo.

Rhodes has had other advantages, particularly on the Republican "report to the people" bus tour. Because he is the governor, Rhodes and the other candidates often have had police escorts moving them in and out of towns and keeping them on schedule.

Reams and the other Democratic candidates travel by car and get no more consideration than an average motorists. They often have been late. In Dayton recently, they became separated and missed about 500 workers they planned to greet outside a plant.

Democrats started their stumping in mid-August, about a month ahead of Republicans. They already are at work in the big cities. Reams was in Cleveland and Toledo this week. Rhodes will concentrate almost entirely on big cities after the GOP tour ends this week.

Veteran political observers said the Reams - Rhodes campaign, while failing to create the enthusiasm of others in recent years, probably by November will have reached more voters directly than any since 1950. The late Sen. Robert Taft won reelection that year over former state auditor Joseph T. Ferguson after one of the most grueling and intensive campaigns in Ohio history.

The governor and Reams will close out their campaigns, for all practical purposes, at the traditional pre-election Cleveland City Club debate on Saturday, Nov. 6. This will be the only joint appearance by the candidates whose trails will have crossed many times by that day.

PTA To Meet

The South Court St. PTA will hold its first meeting 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the multipurpose room at the school.

All parents are urged to attend.

The building of the original Erie Canal in the early 19th century from north of Albany westward to Buffalo was the biggest construction project ever undertaken in the young United States.

TWIN AWARDS -- E. G. Grigg (left), manager of General Electric's Circleville Lamp plant, presents Clayton Vaughan with a 35-year service award. In a surprise turnabout, Vaughan then presented Grigg with an award for 30 years of GE service. Both men have compiled more than half of their industrial experience in the Circleville community.

Two of First GE Officials Honored for Long Service

Eighteen year ago next month, General Electric produced its first lamp in Circleville.

Among those present were several GE "first families" who had moved to Circleville well ahead of the opening. They participated in the planning and construction phases of start-up operations.

Two of these men have been honored with service awards. They are Clayton Vaughan, who celebrates his 35th year with GE, and E. G. Grigg, who recently completed his 30th year of service.

Grigg, local plant manager, presented the 35-year award to Vaughan in a ceremony attended by all members of GE's local supervisory staff. In a surprise turnabout, Vaughan then presented Grigg with 30-year award.

FOR BOTH men, over half of their industrial experience has been in Circleville. Together, they represent more than 36 years of service to this community.

Vaughan, senior member of GE's local quarter century club, began his career in Buffalo, N. Y., as a toolmaker. In 1932, he transferred to Youngstown Lamp plant, serving in the machine shop and as a group leader. He became master mechanic of the East Cleveland Lamp Works in 1939.

In 1948, Vaughan came to Circleville as master mechanic. He was the second supervisory employee to be named at the local plant.

He attended the University of Buffalo, Hiram College, and Case in Cleveland. He is a registered mechanical engineer.

Vaughan, who lives at 427 Northridge Road, is a past district chairman and finance chairman of the Boy Scouts, and past chairman for the business section of the Community Fund. He is a trustee of the American Red Cross and a member of the local Masonic Order and Aladdin Temple of the Shrine.

He is also a statewide trustee and public relations chairman for the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers. He is married and has two children, both of whom are teachers in Ohio.

Grigg, a native of Richmond, Va., and is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute where he earned degrees in electrical and industrial engineering. He also took undergraduate and graduate work in business administration at Western Reserve University during his career in industry.

The plant manager joined General Electric in 1936 as a test engineer in Pittsfield, Mass., and had other test engineering assignments in Philadelphia, Pa., and Schenectady, N. Y., before joining the Lamp Division in Cleveland. He had Lamp Division assignments at Euclid Lamp, Jackson, Miss., Buffalo, N. Y., and in the home office in Cleveland before coming to Circleville as plant manager.

Grigg has served Circleville in many capacities over the years. He was one of the original organizers of the Pickaway County Community Fund and has served many of the member organizations in various capacities. He is a past chairman of the Blood Bank Program, and past president of Rotary.

Currently, Grigg is vice president of the Circleville School Board, a member of the Republican Central Committee, and elder in the Presbyterian Church and chairman of the local Economic Opportunity organization.

Grigg is married and has four sons. He and his family reside at 905 Atwater Ave.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most people in this country, Negro or white, have never seen or heard of Clarence Mitchell, a tall, husky, rather shy man who has led a completely dedicated life.

There can be few, if any, men alive who have worked longer or harder for civil rights and an end to racial discrimination and injustice than this 55-year old Negro with a soft voice and a great supply of self-control.

Television cameras seldom show him; news stories seldom mention him. For 21 years, as Washington representative of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, he has worked inside.

His efforts have been aimed at getting civil rights legislation through Congress, getting the government to enforce legislation already on the books, banning discrimination in and out of government.

This means: Working under the Capitol dome with members of Congress, with all that involves in rounding up votes, consulting on bills to get them as strong and effective as he can; consulting with lawyers in the Justice Department on legislation and enforcement; conferring with White House aides of the President on all the ramifications of civil rights.

This is all work on the inside-out of public view. It's the outside men, like Stokely Carmichael and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who supply the civil rights movement with its dramatics and so become national figures.

Carmichael, with his ambiguous barangues, inflames some Negroes and angers or dismays some whites. King, with his speeches and marches, has come to symbolize the Negroes' struggle. Carmichael is head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. King heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

But they are Johnnies-comelately compared with Mitchell who has been at his job since 1945, lives in Baltimore and commutes to his Washington office, works 9 to 12 hours five days a week, and seldom has weekends home. He spends them going around the country discussing civil rights with interested groups.

Many individuals and organizations have been responsible for the progress made so far. But Mitchell's role in all of it is basic. If there had been no Mitchell, he would have had to be invented.

To an outsider much of his work may seem like drudgery. The endless conversations and consultations, arguments, frustrations, attention to details, push for action, and all repeated year after year.

The progress has been painfully slow but the life of Mitchell's own family is like a bridge between the past and the future.

He had to go to Lincoln University in Pennsylvania back in the early 1930s because the University of Maryland was segregated. Then it began to desegregate and Mitchell's wife, Juanita, and his brother, Parren, got degrees there.

Mrs. Mitchell, a lawyer in private practice, is also Baltimore counsel for the NAACP.

New Deputy Postmaster
Wants More Automation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department's new assistant postmaster general is plotting a revolution — a "planned management controlled revolution" that would create a mechanized post office.

Dr. Leo S. Packer, a former business executive who admits to having seen the inside of only three post offices, was confirmed by the Senate two weeks ago as head of the department's new Bureau of Research and Engineering.

In the next two years Packer says he wants to double the number of post office engineers engaged exclusively in research and development and begin "a planned management-controlled revolution."

The revolution would create a mechanized post office — but not simply a few more conveyor belts or a couple of extra computers.

"There are means of communications which are different from the letter with the stamp on it that are the legitimate concern of the Post Office Department — it is the concern of the department to be aware of them," he said.

Packer, 46, former engineering manager of Xerox Corp., says the department no longer will depend on "technological droppings from industry" for its new ideas. But he realizes there are vast differences between the methods of private industry and those of the government.

"What we're building here I visualize is a long, uphill climb," he said in an interview. "The restraints on management in government are stronger than what I had expected."

Currently, the Post Office spends $20 million a year on research and development out of a budget of nearly $6 billion. If the Post Office were private industry, Packer says, it would be told "you're running a hell of a business, since such a small fraction of your budget is for research."

Packer believes his primary problem will be to find new methods to cope with the continued growth in mail volume — especially the millions of magazines and other publications of a literate society.

It is, he says, "a complex problem beyond the reach of the traditional approach of manual labor. We need to plan and carry out a program of mechanization."

"At the same time much of the equipment is sophisticated and we need a new breed of postal employee that can live with it; and we don't have them today."

Packer says he hopes, within the next decade, to see a "transfer from a predominantly manual operation to an operation that makes intelligent planned use of programmed equipment."

There have been almost suffocating frustrations in Mitchell's 21 years here. Because of Southern opposition, no civil rights bill could be passed in this century until 1957. Then others went through in 1960, 1964, 1965. Mitchell had a hand in all of them.

This looks like a dream to Mitchell now, compared with what he encountered when he started. In the postwar years none of President Harry S. Truman's civil rights legislative program — antilynching, antipoll tax, fair employment practices commission — had a chance.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department's new assistant postmaster general is plotting a revolution — a "planned management controlled revolution" that would create a mechanized post office.

Dr. Leo S. Packer, a former business executive who admits to having seen the inside of only three post offices, was confirmed by the Senate two weeks ago as head of the department's new Bureau of Research and Engineering.

In the next two years Packer says he wants to double the number of post office engineers engaged exclusively in research and development and begin "a planned management-controlled revolution."

The revolution would create a mechanized post office — but not simply a few more conveyor belts or a couple of extra computers.

"There are means of communications which are different from the letter with the stamp on it that are the legitimate concern of the Post Office Department — it is the concern of the department to be aware of them," he said.

Packer, 46, former engineering manager of Xerox Corp., says the department no longer will depend on "technological droppings from industry" for its new ideas. But he realizes there are vast differences between the methods of private industry and those of the government.

"What we're building here I visualize is a long, uphill climb," he said in an interview. "The restraints on management in government are stronger than what I had expected."

Currently, the Post Office spends $20 million a year on research and development out of a budget of nearly $6 billion. If the Post Office were private industry, Packer says, it would be told "you're running a hell of a business, since such a small fraction of your budget is for research."

Packer believes his primary problem will be to find new methods to cope with the continued growth in mail volume — especially the millions of magazines and other publications of a literate society.

It is, he says, "a complex problem beyond the reach of the traditional approach of manual labor. We need to plan and carry out a program of mechanization."

"At the same time much of the equipment is sophisticated and we need a new breed of postal employee that can live with it; and we don't have them today."

Packer says he hopes, within the next decade, to see a "transfer from a predominantly manual operation to an operation that makes intelligent planned use of programmed equipment."

Mexico Wages All-Out War On Worldwide Gangsterism

By EMIL ZUBRYN
Central Press Association
Correspondent

MEXICO CITY — The Mexican government has initiated an all-out war against "international gangsterism" in Mexico, according to a spokesman of the Attorney General's Office.

"We are not going to tolerate being headquarters of international hoodlums who think they can buy law enforcement authorities," the spokesman said.

"This is now total war against all organized crime and undesirable elements. First, we will make it harder for international criminals to enter Mexico. And we are steadily deporting those already in our territory."

"This will be no overnight dragnet, but a continuous effort to free our country of foreign criminal elements."

The all-out drive against international gangsters has been quietly in action for the past few months.

United in the anti-international criminal campaign is Mexico's Department of State, the Attorney General's Office and the Federal Security Bureau (Mexico's F.B.I.), as well as the Federal Judicial Police, and all state and city law authorities.

"We have just become tired of the prolonged chain of criminal activities over past years," the attorney general's spokesman said.

"Including the ruffraff of the United States, Central and South America, and Europe."

"We have already imprisoned or booted out a number of members of Cosa Nostra who had established a stronghold in border towns such as Tijuana and Ciudad Juarez, operating with impunity."

"Many more will go, not only the mafia gangsters, but contrabandists, traffickers in fentanyl, swindlers and other criminals."

Already there is a tighter check in Mexico's ports, airports and on the country's northern and southern borders.

A major coup included the rounding up of a gang of Cubans and Mexicans who specialized in criminal contraband providing Mexican blood plasma for the Cuban Embassy for transfer to Havana.

"Mexican blood obtained from donors was sent to Cuba in diplomatic pouches," the attorney general's spokesman said.

"Shipments had been made, with co-operation of Cuban Embassy functionaries, for quite some time."

"There seems to have been a heavy demand for blood, probably to build up Cuban blood banks. Anyway, we got on to the racket, and when we pounced we caught the gang with 520 boxes of blood plasma, with a value of 95,000 pesos ($7,600 U. S.)."

"We have also smashed several major dope rings," the spokesman revealed. "And each month anywhere from six to two dozen undesirables are deported."

"This will be a continuous battle, but we are determined not to slacken our activities. For Mexico has definitely decided to shut its doors to international delinquents who seek refuge within her borders."

Boy Meets Girl Festival Fails

ESPARROS, France (AP) — The bachelor derby staged by the lonely males of Esparros brought a lot of attention to the village but little lasting sentiment.

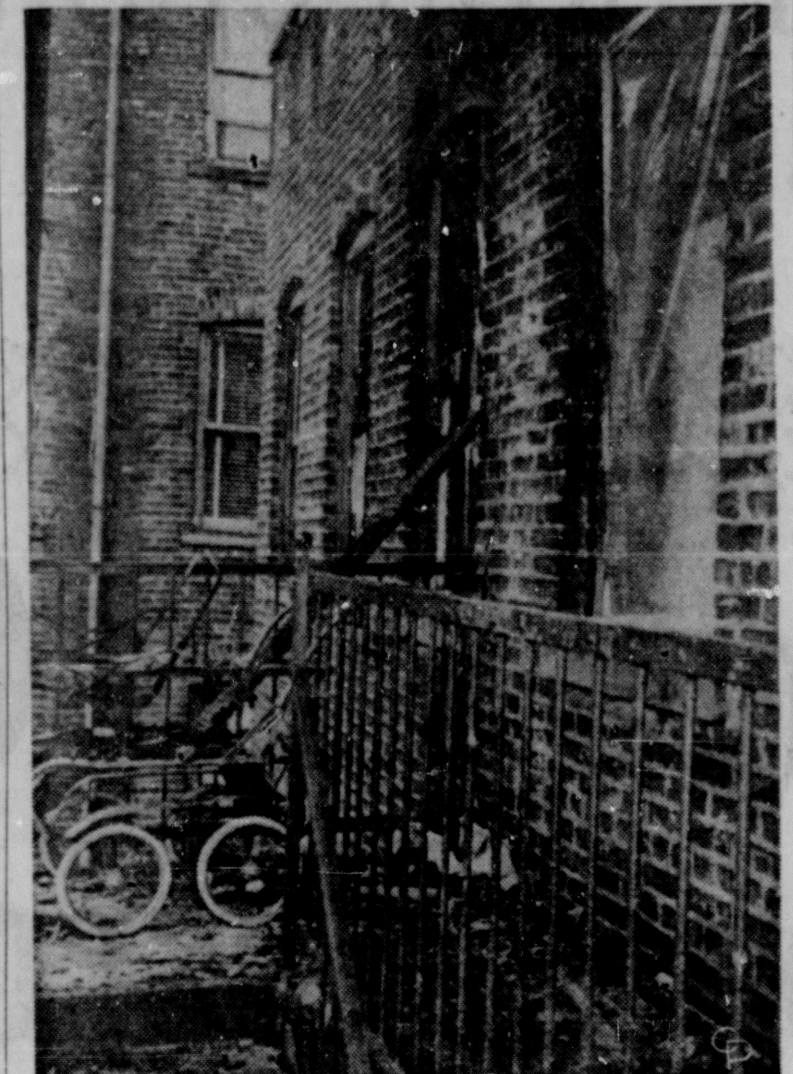

Faced by a dismal shortage of eligible marriage partners, the bachelors of Esparros decided to hold an open house May 29. Single girls, widows and other unattached women were invited to look over the supply of marriage-hungry males—and to line up for inspection themselves.

When the day arrived, thousands of curious visitors flocked to Esparros and neighboring villages facing the same problem high in the Pyrenees.

The advance planning broke down. The bachelors were supposed to wear an armband. The interested girls were supposed to wear a numbered white boutonniere. In the picnicking crowds, few of the lonely heart signals were sighted.

Charles Duthu, mayor of Esparros, reports there has been a sign of romantic upturn, however. Two weeks ago he performed a marriage for Francis Pommier and Elise Marcuillat—the first in Esparros in 10 years.

Unfortunately, Pommier and his bride have no plans to live in Esparros. Pommier is an army career man and is stationed in Dax.

Texan Takes Canada Open

Nicklaus Hits 292 for $712

VANCOUVER (AP) — A mildmannered Texan who becomes dead serious on the golf course won the Canadian Open Golf Tournament Sunday and pocketed $20,000 for the four days' work — his largest check ever.

Don Massengale of Jacksboro, Tex., won the $100,000 tournament and the Seagram Golf Cup in spectacular fashion, chipping in from 45-yards out for an eagle 3 on the par-5 16th.

The shot left little hope for Chi Chi Rodriguez of Puerto Rico, who led going into the fourth round. He missed a 10 foot birdie putt on the 16th that would have put him only two strokes behind Massengale, then went one over on both of the final two holes.

The 29-year-old Texan finished the round with one under par 70 for a 280, 72-hole total to become the only pro in the tournament to master the sprawling Shaughnessy Golf and Country Club layout with better-than-par scores on all rounds. He had four successive 70s.

Chi Chi settled for second place money of $12,000 with a 283.

Jack Nicklaus, co-favorite with Billy Casper to win the tourney, shot 292 and collected only $712. Casper's 288 netted him $1,920.

BONSALL, Calif. (AP) — Mickey Wright of Dallas fired a one-under-par 71 Sunday to win the sixth annual San Luis Rey Country Club Tournament named in her honor.

Miss Wright, who returned to the tour this year after a nine-month's absence, carded a 280 total for a one-shot edge over Clifford Ann Creed.

It was the fifth tournament victory in the last seven tries for Miss Wright. In the other two, she finished second.

Clark Takes Grand Prix With Lotus

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — Jim Clark talked one of his toughest competitors out of an engine and himself into victory Sunday in the U.S. Grand Prix.

He wound up with a speed mark and the fattest purse in road racing history.

The engine, borrowed at the last minute from the rival 388M racing team, powered Clark's green Lotus racer to a record-smashing first in 248-mile grind, averaging 114.94 miles per hour.

The 30-year-old, two-time world champion from Duns, Scotland was lying a comfortable third when mechanical breakdowns eliminated the two early leaders, Lorenzo Bandini of Italy and Jack Brabham of Australia.

Clark roared into the lead on the 56th lap of the 108-lap race and never relinquished it, finishing in 2:09:40.1, 2 minutes and 46 seconds ahead of second place Jochem Rindt of Austria in a Cooper-Maserati.

The victory was Clark's second in the U.S. Grand Prix—he also won in 1962—and was worth $20,000 of the total $120,400, an all-time record for international road racing.

A crowd estimated at 75,000 watched the race.

Clinic Provides Medical Service

EDITOR'S NOTE — Here is one of a series of articles designed to familiarize Pickaway Countians with services provided by seven agencies supported by the Community Fund. This year's campaign will be conducted through Oct. 10. The goal is $41,000.

The Well-Child Clinic, manned by volunteer doctors, dentists, nurses and other personnel provides necessary medical services for an average of 500 county children.

The services provided include immunizations, medical and surgical treatment, dental care and corrective aids for eyes and ears.

This assistance provided for children up to the age of five who are referred by the welfare agency, family physician or by request of the family.

The Well-Child Clinic receives all of its financial support from the Pickaway County Community Fund. Thanks to many volunteers who donate their time, the Well-Child Clinic can provide all its services for $2,000.

Local officials feel this agency certainly deserves the support of Community Fund dollars.

Crimson Tide Seeks Third Grid Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
After Joe Namath and Steve Sloan and two national football championships, what do you do for an encore?

Bear Bryant introduced Ken Stabler—and Alabama stepped into the spotlight in quest of its third straight collegiate title.

The Crimson Tide won critical acclaim by topping mighty Mississippi 17-7 Saturday night and Stabler's routine was a show stopper. The southpaw junior quarterback, in his debut against a major rival, put on an aerial display that featured 16 completions in 19 passes for 144 yards, no interceptions and a 28-yard touchdown pass.

Nine of his passes went to Ray Perkins, an Alabama record, as the Tide, No. 3 ranked but a pre-season pick to make it three titles in a row, won its second game without a loss.

High-flying Notre Dame, No. 4, unleashed its Terry Hanratty-to-Jim Seymour combo as the Irish gained 225 yards through the air and Nick Eddy ran 58 yards for a score in a 35-7 romp over Northwestern.

Jon Brittenum hurled scoring passes of 48 and 72 yards for Arkansas as the No. 7 team crushed Texas Christian 21-0 in preparation for Baylor. Baylor rode Terry Southall's arm past Washington State 20-14.

Gary Beban directed UCLA's second-ranked Bruins on a hard-earned 25-15 victory over previously unbeaten Missouri as halfback Mel Farr scored twice.

Top-ranked Michigan State used Al Brenner's 95-yard punt return and Pat Gallinagh's 40-yard rambles with a fumble to beat Illinois 26-10.

The Spartans will take a 3-0 record into its state squabble Saturday against Michigan, No. 8, an upset victim of North Carolina 21-7.

Southern California, No. 5 which walked over Oregon State 21-0 should have things tougher Saturday against Washington, which upset Ohio State 38-22 as Don Moore gained 221 yards.

Nebraska, No. 6, won its third straight toughie, nudging Iowa State 12-6 on Harry Wilson's 37-yard run in the final period. The Cornhuskers next meet Wisconsin, 7-0 winner over Iowa.

The Nos. 9 and 10 teams, Georgia Tech and Tennessee, prepared for their battle next Saturday as the Tech nipped Clemson 13-12 on Lenny Snow's scoring dash and the Volunteers tumbled Rice 23-3.

Surprising Army prepared for its duel at Notre Dame by upsetting Penn State 11-0 for its third straight victory.

Dutch Harrison Wins Seniors

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—E. J. (Dutch) Harrison has won his fifth U.S. National Seniors Golf Open championship by shooting a 277 for 72 holes.

Harrison shot a par - 70 in strong winds at the Tropicana Country Club course Sunday to overtake Freddie Haas and Mike DeMassey, who had started the final round a stroke ahead of him.

Haas shot a 72 and fell one stroke behind Harrison, who earned $7,500 for first place. DeMassey sagged to an 80, and finished in a five-way tie for 11th place.

Reds End Year In Usual Style

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds were frustrated at the very opening of the 1966 baseball season — the entire opening series against the New York Mets was rained out—and the entire season was marked by frustration.

Before the season baseball writers participating in The Associated Press poll made the Reds the No. 1 choice to win the pennant.

They finished seventh with a 76-84 record.

The team wound up the season Sunday with a 4-2 defeat to the Atlanta Braves. It was a typical defeat for Cincinnati — the Braves scored their first run on a wild pitch and the telling blow was a two-run double by pitcher Joe Jay.

Don Heffner, who started the season as manager was fired during the All-Star Game break.

Coach Dave Bristol was named "interim manager." Then came one of the Reds' winning spurts. The Reds had a 37-46 record when Heffner was fired and were in eighth place, 15 games out of first place.

Twenty-three games later, the team was at the .500 mark and only ten games out. But that was the last surge of power. September and the first two days of October were disastrous. During that time the record was 8-19.

In spite of that, Bristol was named the 1967 manager last Monday.

This much is known — the players want him and there was dissatisfaction with Heffner, even during spring training, because of his repeated lineup changes.

What happened to the promising Cincinnati hopes?

There are a flock of answers. Some blame the managers, particularly Heffner. Others, and they are in the majority, blame the off-season trade by President William O. DeWitt that sent slugger outfielder Frank Robinson to the Baltimore Orioles.

Warriors Defeat Royals, 134-118

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors continually outlasted Cincinnati Sunday night to beat the Royals 134-118 in a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

The Los Angeles Lakers were beaten by the Philadelphia 76ers 116-109 in the other game.

Nate Thurmond and Tom Meschery cleaned the boards for the Warriors and the team as a whole shot 55 per cent from the floor. Thurmond led the Warriors with 26 points.

Cincinnati was topped by 23 points each from Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas.

Wildlife GP To Be Named For Pickaway

One of 18 applicants attending the Ohio Division of Wildlife's Pro Service Game Protector School will be assigned to Pickaway County.

Russell Tippet, former local game protector, was promoted and assigned to the Akron area early in August. Since that time, no regular man has been assigned to the county although enforcement officers from other counties patrol the area.

Out of more than 300 applicants for the school, 18 were selected to attend following a pre-selection examination and an interview with staff members of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Those attending are: Edward H. Becker, Stark County; Jack L. Brooks, Hocking; William I. Carper, Lawrence; Wayne E. Chappelle, Franklin; Richard O. Chittum, Montgomery; Robert E. Fife, Clark; Walter A. Jones, Putnam; John F. Leifheit, Licking; James V. Miller, Ashland; John W. Nelson, Greene; Larry J. Ray, Miami; Paul H. Reuter, Meigs; Larry G. Rine, Knox; Gerald A. Thomas, Jefferson; Frederick G. Tyo, Muskingum; Jack L. Whitehair, Guernsey; Terrance C. Welch, Franklin, and Thomas F. Welton, Franklin.

THE CLASSROOM phase of the school extends from September 19 to October 21 during which time the trainees will receive intensive instruction in administration, public relations, equipment maintenance, fish and game management, and law enforcement. Following the classroom phase of training, they will be assigned to experienced wildlife personnel throughout the state for field duty prior to taking the State Civil Service examination.

Those who complete the training school and pass the State Civil Service examination will be assigned to fill existing vacancies.

Miami Wins Most Games; Would You Believe 9?

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Okay, sports fans. Ready for Monday's quickie quiz?

Who owns the longest winning streak among the nation's major college football teams? Michigan State? UCLA? Alabama?

Wrong—if you guessed any of those power clubs.

Try Miami (Ohio), which Saturday rang up its ninth straight success over a two-year span.

Coach Bo Schembechler's Redskins clouted Western Michigan 26-7 for their third consecutive triumph this season and their first in the Mid-American Conference.

Senior Joe Kozar piled up 123 yards in 25 attempts as the Skins' crunching ground game rolled for 280 yards in handing Western its first setback after two victories.

Elsewhere, in other major games:

Coach Woody Hayes will have to plug the dikes after Washington ran through Ohio State's leaky defense for 415 yards and earned a 38-22 victory. Flashy halfback Don Moore accounted for more than half on 221 yards in 30 carries and two touchdowns.

Soph Bill Patakia's 49-yard field goal with 15 seconds remaining brought Ohio University its 12-10 Mid-Am triumph over Kent.

Stew Williams romped for 139 yards in 29 tries as Bowling Green beat Dayton 13-0 in the Falcons' new stadium—Doyt L. Perry Field.

An alert Toledo defense spotted Marshall a touchdown advantage before rallying to whip the Herd 23-7.

Cincinnati rushed for 314 yards in winning its Missouri Valley Conference opener against Wichita 20-6 and Carroll Williams, Xavier's ace quarterback, passed for one touchdown and scored another in the Musketeers' 14-3 victory over the Quantico Marines.

Akron's 155-pound Jim Braccio returned the opening kickoff 91 yards to paydirt but the Zips couldn't check the three-touchdown performance of Jesse Kaye who led Tampa to a 20-12 victory.

Jenkins Lost For Year Due To Knee Injury

The Circleville High School football team received a blow Saturday when Tom Jenkins, senior fullback and defensive tackle was ruled out of competition for the remainder of the year.

Jenkins suffered a knee injury in Friday's game at Greenfield McClain.

"Somebody is always getting hurt in a muddy game," Circleville Coach Paul Starr said. He attributed the treacherous footing as a primary cause of injuries.

Otherwise the Tiger team is healthy. Individual grade scores were the best of the year, according to the coaching staff.

STEVE Barthlmas, moving into the center spot with only two practices, drew special praise from the staff. He was commended for his blocking and for the fact he did not have a single bad snap of the ball.

With the possible exception of Tom Fletcher who made 18 individual tackles, the staff could not single out an outstanding griddier.

BE GLAD YOU'RE COOKING WITH GAS!

If you're a man, you probably won't understand a lot of this. But you, lady...

You can spot one of Those Days the moment it starts. You sleep through the alarm so there's a crash-bang panic to get Dad off to work and the kids off to school. Then Junior remembers a list of things for show-and-tell and the sink stops up and so do your sinuses, and the new drapes come C.O.D. and you have 18¢ in the house, and the guy to paint the ceilings shows up a week early, and... You Know.

So suddenly it's a quarter to five and guess who calls to say he's bringing someone home? And guess who

Crimson Tide Seeks Third Grid Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
After Joe Namath and Steve Sloan and two national football championships, what do you do for an encore?

Bear Bryant introduced Ken Stapler—and Alabama stepped into the spotlight in quest of its third straight collegiate title.

The Crimson Tide won critical acclaim by toppling mighty Mississippi 17-7 Saturday night and Stapler's routine was a show stopper. The southpaw junior quarterback, in his debut against a major rival, put on an aerial display that featured 16 completions in 19 passes for 144 yards, no interceptions and a 28-yard touchdown pass.

Nine of his passes went to Ray Perkins, an Alabama record, as the Tide, No. 3 ranked but a pre-season pick to make it three titles in a row, won its second game without a loss.

High-flying Notre Dame, No. 4, unleashed its Terry Hanratty-to-Jim Seymour combo as the Irish gained 225 yards through the air and Nick Eddy ran 56 yards for a score in a 357 romp over Northwestern.

Jon Brittenum hurled scoring passes of 48 and 72 yards for Arkansas as the No. 7 team crushed Texas Christian 21-0 in preparation for Baylor. Baylor rode Terry Southall's arm past Washington State 20-14.

Gary Beban directed UCLA's second-ranked Bruins on a hard-earned 25-15 victory over previously unbeaten Missouri as halfback Mel Farr scored twice.

Top-ranked Michigan State used Al Brenner's 95-yard punt return and Pat Gallinagh's 40-yard ramble with a fumble to beat Illinois 26-10.

The Spartans will take a 3-0 record into its state squabble Saturday against Michigan, No. 8, an upset victim of North Carolina 21-7.

Southern California, No. 5 which walked over Oregon State 21-0 should have things tougher Saturday against Washington, which upset Ohio State 38-22 as Don Moore gained 221 yards.

Nebraska, No. 6, won its third straight toughie, nudging Iowa State 12-6 on Harry Wilson's 37-yard run in the final period. The Cornhuskers next meet Wisconsin, 7-0 winner over Iowa.

The Nos. 9 and 10 teams, Georgia Tech and Tennessee, prepared for their battle next Saturday as the Tech nipped Clemson 13-12 on Lenny Snow's scoring dash and the Volunteers tumbled Rice 23-3.

Surprising Army prepared for its duel at Notre Dame by upsetting Penn State 11-0 for its third straight victory.

Dutch Harrison Wins Seniors

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—E. J. (Dutch) Harrison has won his fifth U.S. National Seniors Golf Open championship by shooting a 277 for 72 holes.

Harrison shot a par - 70 in strong winds at the Tropicana Country Club course Sunday to overtake Freddie Haas and Mike DeMassey, who had started the final round a stroke ahead of him.

Haas shot a 72 and fell one stroke behind Harrison, who earned $7,500 for first place. DeMassey sagged to an 80, and finished in a five-way tie for 11th place.

Reds End Year In Usual Style

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds were frustrated at the very opening of the 1966 baseball season — the entire opening series against the New York Mets was rained out—and the entire season was marked by frustration.

Before the season baseball writers participating in The Associated Press poll made the Reds the No. 1 choice to win the pennant.

They finished seventh with a 76-84 record.

The team wound up the season Sunday with a 4-2 defeat to the Atlanta Braves. It was a typical defeat for Cincinnati — the Braves scored their first run on a wild pitch and the telling blow was a two-run double by pitcher Joe Jay.

Don Heffner, who started the season as manager was fired during the All-Star Game break.

Coach Dave Bristol was named "interim manager." Then came one of the Reds' winning spurts. The Reds had a 37-46 record when Heffner was fired and were in eighth place, 15 games out of first place.

Twenty-three games later, the team was at the .500 mark and only ten games out. But that was the last surge of power. September and the first two days of October were disastrous. During that time the record was 8-19.

In spite of that, Bristol was named the 1967 manager last Monday.

This much is known — the players want him and there was dissatisfaction with Heffner, even during spring training, because of his repeated lineup changes.

What happened to the promising Cincinnati hopes?

There are a flock of answers. Some blame the managers, particularly Heffner. Others, and they are in the majority, blame the off-season trade by President William O. DeWitt that sent slugger outfielder Frank Robinson to the Baltimore Orioles.

Warriors Defeat Royals, 134-118

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors continually outlasted Cincinnati Sunday night to beat the Royals 134-118 in a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

The Los Angeles Lakers were beaten by the Philadelphia 76ers 116-109 in the other game.

Nate Thurmond and Tom Meschery cleaned the boards for the Warriors and the team as a whole shot 55 per cent from the floor. Thurmond led the Warriors with 26 points.

Cincinnati was topped by 23 points each from Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas.

Catcher Edwards Enters Hospital

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Reds catcher John Edwards is entering a hospital for treatment of a double hernia condition.

No one knows just how much the loss of Robinson hurt the offense. In the first half of the season the Reds' couldn't hit their way out of a wet paper bag.

As it turned out, Pete Rose was the only Redleg regular starter to finish over the .300 mark in hitting.

What is going to happen after this disappointing year.

Bristol says, "I don't propose to tear this ball club apart."

After the last game, he told newsmen: "In general, my main goal is bringing back the winning habit into this club."

Jenkins Lost For Year Due To Knee Injury

Brown Exits,
Kelly Enters

Cleveland Drubs
New York, 28-7

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland's National Football League foes endured nine painful years awaiting for Hollywood to discover Jimmy Brown.

They may spend the next nine waiting for Leroy Kelly to discover another line of work.

Kelly, who moved into the Browns' backfield in the wake of Jim Brown's switch from ball-carrier to movie-maker, left New York defenders in his wake Sunday while leading Cleveland to a 28-7 victory over the error-plagued Giants.

With the victory, Cleveland squared its record to 2 and 2.

The 205-pound halfback, a three-year pro from little Morgan State College in Baltimore, flashed into the NFL rushing lead—long the domain of Brown—by rolling up 138 yards against the Giants. His second straight 100-yard plus performance gave him a four-game total of 352 yards.

Kelly broke loose on a 39-yard end sweep in the second period, scored on a three-yard sweep later in the same quarter and set up another touchdown with a 14-yard burst up the middle in the final period. He also ran back a pair of kickoffs for 48 yards.

Until Brown announced his retirement last summer, kickoffs and punts were Kelly's bread and butter. He led the league in punt returns last season.

Given the ball this year, Kelly has developed rapidly into one of the league's most dangerous inside-outside threats. "It's just been a matter of experience with Leroy," Coach Blanton Collier said. "For instance, he's much better now at setting up his blocks, picking his holes and hitting the openings."

"He's a fine back," said Giants pilot Allie Sherman of the 24-year-old Philadelphia.

"He has that ability not to be going at top speed and then, suddenly, to turn it on."

Sherman said the Giants, winless in four starts, "paid the price" for failing to capitalize on scoring opportunities. "We took the ball in their three times," he said, "and we didn't even get a chance to go for a field goal. We coughed up the ball each time (once on a fumble, twice on pass interceptions) and you just can't do that."

The Browns turned Jim Kanicki's fumble recovery into their first touchdown drive. Frank Ryan capping a 73-yard march with a 20-yard scoring pass to rookie Milt Morin. Ernie Kellerman, another rookie, picked off a New York pass early in the second period and Kelly scored five plays later.

After the Giants closed the gap in the final minute of the first half on three straight Gary Wood-Homer Jones passes, the

Koufax Gives Dodgers
2nd Straight Pennant

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
For Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers it was all downhill after the sixth inning. For the San Francisco Giants it was all down the drain after the third.

As he did on the next-to-last day of the season last year, the amazing Koufax pitched the Dodgers to the National League pennant, their second straight, scattering seven hits in a 6-3 victory over Philadelphia Sunday.

"It was all downhill for me after the sixth," the 30-year-old left-hander said amid a wild Dodger celebration after bringing his record to 27 victories, most in his career, against nine defeats.

The Giants, though, felt their hopes for a first place tie sink in the third inning when the Dodgers exploded for three runs. Like everyone else in baseball, they knew all too well that Koufax rarely, if ever, loses with that great a lead.

They sat around at the airport in Pittsburgh, though, hoping that a rarity would occur. They had defeated the Pirates 7-3 in 11 innings and another Dodger defeat, following a 4-3 loss in the opener of the doubleheader with the Phillies would have kept them alive.

To force a playoff, they then would have to beat Cincinnati Monday in a make-up of a rained out game.

But when Koufax arrived at the bottom of the hill, the Giants started leaving for San Francisco instead of Cincinnati.

The Phillies tried to pull it out for the Giants, rallying for three runs in the ninth inning. But Koufax had been more concerned about the first inning when they put two men on with only one out.

"I would say the biggest pitch I had to make was to strike out Richie Allen in the first when I was in trouble," Koufax said.

After fanning Allen for the first three times, Koufax retired Harvey Kuenn on a grounder, ending the threat.

Slightly more than two hours later, Koufax fanned Jack Brandt for his 10th strikeout, and the Dodgers had their sixth pennant in Walter Alston's 13-year reign.

They also had the distinction of being the first National League team since Milwaukee in 1957-58 to win two straight pennants.

While his jubilant players celebrated, the always calm Alston said either Don Drysdale, who was knocked out of Sunday's first game in the third inning, or Claude Osteen would start against Baltimore in the first game of the World Series Wednesday in Los Angeles.

"Sandy probably will go in the second game," Alston said. "There may have been some greater pitchers before I came around, but this guy is the greatest I've ever witnessed."

To force a playoff, they then would have to beat Cincinnati Monday in a make-up of a rained out game.

But when Koufax arrived at the bottom of the hill, the Giants started leaving for San Francisco instead of Cincinnati.

The Phillies tried to pull it out for the Giants, rallying for three runs in the ninth inning. But Koufax had been more concerned about the first inning when they put two men on with only one out.

"I would say the biggest pitch I had to make was to strike out Richie Allen in the first when I was in trouble," Koufax said. After fanning Allen for the first of three times, Koufax retired Harvey Kuenn on a grounder, ending the threat.

Slightly more than two hours later, Koufax fanned Jack Brandt for his 10th strikeout, and the Dodgers had their sixth pennant in Walter Alston's 13-year reign.

They also had the distinction of being the first National League team since Milwaukee in 1957-58 to win two straight pennants.

While his jubilant players celebrated, the always calm Alston said either Don Drysdale, who was knocked out of Sunday's first game in the third inning, or Claude Osteen would start against Baltimore in the first game of the World Series Wednesday in Los Angeles.

"Sandy probably will go in the second game," Alston said. "There may have been some greater pitchers before I came around, but this guy is the greatest I've ever witnessed."

Robby Wins AL Baseball Triple Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Robinson clinched baseball's first triple crown in 10 years Sunday as the regular season ended.

Baltimore's slugging outfielder won the American League batting title with a .316 average, nine points better than Minnesota's Tony Oliva, who had won the championship in 1964 and 1965.

Robinson also led the league in runs batted in with 122 and in home runs with 49. His 121 runs also led that department.

In the National League, Matty Alou of the Pittsburgh Pirates won the batting title with a .342 average, 25 points better than his brother, Felipe, who plays for the Atlanta Braves.

Hank Aaron of Atlanta led in both home runs with 44 and runs batted in with 127 but batted only .279.

Felipe Alou also led the NL in hits with 218 and runs with 122.

Based on 15 decisions, the Los Angeles Dodgers' Phil Regan finished with the top pitching percentage. Regan, a relief specialist was 14-1 for .933. In the American League, Minnesota's Dave Boswell with 12-5 for .700 had the top percentage.

The top winner was Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles, who was 27-9. Koufax' total was the most won by any pitcher since Don Newcombe of the Dodgers won 27 in 1956. The last pitcher to top that total was Robin Roberts, who won 28 for the 1952 Philadelphia Phillies.

Tough Cases Face High Court

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court held a 17-minute session today to open a new term that is expected to be the busiest in its long history.

The nine justices, appearing refreshed after their summer vacations, watched the admission of 53 attorneys to practice before the high tribunal and then recessed for closed conferences during the remainder of the week when they will consider stacks of new appeals filed during the summer.

Chief Justice Earl Warren began proceedings for the nine-month term by declaring: "The 1966 term of the Supreme Court is now convened."

This session the court faces a record-high docket of nearly 1,500 cases including some dealing with such controversial issues as eavesdropping, privacy, church-state relations, obscenity and civil rights.

Next Monday the court will

Two Ministers Are Elected CROP Heads

The Rev. Foster Jenne and the Rev. Eugene Flowers have been elected co-chairman of the Christian Rural Overseas Program to "Combat Hunger Overseas" sponsored by the Church World Service.

The goal for Pickaway County is $6,000 in contributions. The campaign will be held from Oct. 23, until Thanksgiving.

According to the local co-chairmen, the contributions will be used in "striking at the root causes of hunger in Asia, Africa and Latin America."

Since 1947 the CROP program has provided food and supplies worth more than $17 million for distribution overseas. This is in addition to paying for handling and distribution of government donated foods values at more than $75 million, the ministers noted.

CHURCH World Service counts on 18 major catastrophes somewhere in the world each year including earthquakes, tornadoes, floods and famine. It has 1,000 people working around the globe attempting to meet the need of people affected.

Maze Resigns Juvenile Post

Andrew M. Maze, 416 Cedar Heights Road, has resigned as juvenile probation officer for Pickaway County Juvenile Court.

Judge Guy Cline said Maze resigned to complete work on his doctorate degree. The former juvenile officer holds a bachelor degree from Rio Grande College and a master's degree from Marshall University in West Virginia.

ANDRE WM. MAZE

Maze took over the local juvenile probation office in Feb. 1965. Working under him, and recently employed, is his assistant, Millard Dera.

Judge Cline noted today that "one or two men" are being considered for the vacancy left by Maze's resignation. The judge is expected to act on a replacement later this week.

in Monday's editions and the Dayton Journal Herald on Saturday followed in the footsteps of Cleveland's two big newspapers in coming out for Rhodes.

The Rhodes supporters generally cited his administration's efforts in educational programs — field in which Reams said that "fraudulent is the only term to apply to Rhodes' claims."

Reams, who spent Sunday in appearances around his home territory of Toledo, led the Democratic campaign caravan into Norwalk Monday.

"Every school administrator in Ohio knows how state support for public schools has declined under the present administration," Reams told a gathering of northern Ohio school superintendents, "and every one of you knows the added pressures that have been exerted on local real estate taxes as a result."

"Our ribbon-cutting governor has been preaching . . . about jobs and progress while short-changing the greatest institution for progress in this or any other state — education," Reams added.

"And while he's been bragging, we find that many of our sister states have been adding jobs at a faster rate than has Ohio," Reams said in jabbing at another GOP claim.

"Of greater significance, other states . . . have shown a greater increase in personal income on a per capita basis," he said.

The problems they are being asked to weigh this year include:

Can the state of Virginia forbid marriage between the races?

Can the Iowa Supreme Court take a child from his "bohemian" father and award him to more "conventional" grandparents?

Is the death penalty constitutional?

Even can a college insist that students shave their beards and get haircuts?

A top attention-getter is Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's appeal from a 1964 jury tampering conviction. The union leader argues the Justice Department violated his constitutional rights by planting a "spy" within his defense councils.

The eavesdropping question is raised by Fred B. Black Jr., a Washington public relations man whose hotel suite was bugged by the FBI. Convicted of income tax evasion, he is seeking a high court hearing.

The question of privacy recurs in an appeal by Time, Inc., from a $30,000 damage award. It is based on an article in Life magazine that likened the play, "The Desperate Hours," to the real-life experiences of a family held hostage by three escaped convicts.

On obscenity, the court will decide whether booksellers who claim they were not aware of the contents of allegedly obscene publications may be punished.

Among the civil rights cases before the court is one that asks whether four Episcopal ministers, arrested after trying to integrate a bus depot restaurant in Jackson, Miss., can sue the sentencing judge for damages. One of the ministers is the Rev. Robert L. Pierson, son-in-law of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

And on the church-state front, the court has been asked to take of two Maryland cases that may have historic ramifications.

One questions whether government funds may be used to help build church-related school buildings; the other whether church property may be exempted from taxation.

Holstein Heifers Sold in Indiana

Two Pickaway County 4-Hers sold their Holstein heifers at a sale last week in Indianapolis, Ind.

The youngsters are Jeff Palm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Palm, Route 4, and T. D. Glick, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Glick, Route 3.

Palm's Heifer project was sold to an Indiana dairyman. Glick's animal was sold for export to France where it will be used for dairy herd production.

Miss Debbie....

Fair Queen in 1965.

Another newsie note about the Logan Elm beauties. All of them have served on LE cheer-leading squads.

As wearer of the Queen of Queens crown, Miss Ankrum will receive an all-expense paid trip to St. Petersburg, Fla., in April of 1967 where she will be a special guest in the St. Petersburg Festival of the States.

Florida Sun Goddess Marsha Goleen was on hand for the Swiss Festival event Saturday and personally invited Debbie to attend the Sunshine State event. Also on hand for the crowning were Debbie's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Harden. Harden, vice president of the Pumpkin Show, also serves as secretary of the Ohio Festivals and Events Assn.

Miss Ankrum was selected for the Miss Ohio Festivals title from a field of 10 contestants—all beauty queens from pageants conducted in their respective home towns.

RUNNERS UP were Rita

Barnes, representing the Sweet-corn Festival at Millersport, and Mary Lee Kalksch of Logan, representing The Parade of the Hills at Nelsonville.

Debbie will give up her Miss Pumpkin Show crown on Wednesday of Pumpkin Show Week. But she will retain her Queen of Queens crown until next fall.

The new Queen of Queens will travel extensively throughout the state during the coming year representing the Ohio Festivals and Events Assn. She will serve as Ohio's representative next April at St. Petersburg.
